HALF BILLION VOTED IN HUNGER RELIEF

TAX PENALTY CANCELED BY BELLOWS ACT

O'BRIEN SOCIALIZED INDUSTRY PLAN COMPLETE

Lansing, Mar. 30 (AP)—The house, in committee of the whole, today advanced the Murphy bill providing that no security other than the property sold may be demanded on contracts. If enacted the measure would prevent judgments against persons buying property on contract. Repossession of the property would be the only recourse.

The house also advanced the Bellows bill proposing to cancel all interest and penalties on 1932 taxes if paid by July 1. Governor Comstock recently vetoed a bill suspending penalties until May 1. He said the same objective could be reached "by other methods." The taxation committee promptly reported the Bellows measure.

A bill was introduced by Representatives George H. Schoenhalls, St. Johns, and John P. Collins, Marquette, to repeal the game bird preserve act. The law grants an extended season to owners of pheasant reserves.

OPPOSED BY GOVERNOR

Lansing, Mar. 30 (AP)—The drastic proposal of Attorney General Patrick H. O'Brien for a modified socialization of Michigan industry to meet unemployment emergencies was completed today.

The bill, which O'Brien plans to have introduced in the legislature shortly, would permit the state welfare commission to confiscate factories if such a step were deemed necessary to provide employment. The action is justified in the bill by a statement declaring the existence of an emergency.

Broad provisions are also contained in the measure against the hoarding of foodstuffs and other necessities, and the abolition of monopolies with respect to the manufacture, production and distribution of such commodities. Violations of these provisions would lead to a maximum prison term of two years or a fine of $5,000.

The welfare commission under the terms of the bill could take over an industry upon the payment of "just" compensation determined after a hearing. The commission could operate the industry as long as it deemed necessary, restoring the property to original ownership within its discretion. Revenues from the operation of the industry would go into a revolving fund for continued operation while any surpluses would be paid into the general fund of the state.

Governor Comstock is vigorously opposed to the measure.

SCHOOLS RESTRICTED

Lansing, Mar. 30 (AP)—Attorney General Patrick H. O'Brien today handed down an opinion declaring the property tax in a school district within a city having charter restrictions cannot go beyond 1½ percent of the total assessed valuation of the property within the district.

The opinion was written to W. M. Whitman, superintendent of schools at Marquette. Superintendent Whitman had pointed out that his school district operates under a separate corporate charter. He asked if the district could come within the exemption from the 15 mill tax limitation set forth in a recent supreme court decision for cities having charter restrictions.

Coughlin's Home Bombed; White String Only Clue

Detroit, March 30. (AP)—A piece of string—the slenderest of clues—tonight was the sole tangible object held by detectives seeking the person who set off a black powder bomb before dawn today in the home of the Rev. Fr. Charles E. Coughlin. The bomb, lowered into the basement, caused only slight damage and no injuries.

Father Coughlin, principal figure in the controversy over Detroit's banking situation, said he did not regard the bombing as an attempt on his life, but rather as an intimidation. He was shaken by the explosion, which came as he slept, but was unhurt.

Tonight the modest two-story frame dwelling in Fairlawn avenue of suburban Royal Oak was under police guard. For a great part of the day police were forced to rope off the streets in front of the home to keep back crowds of curious. Father Coughlin left the home shortly before noon, and attendants said he did not advise them whether he would return tonight.

Detectives who hurried to the home of the priest, near the Shrine of the Little Flower, the church of which he is in charge, reported there were little outward signs of the blast. Five windows were damaged, and, in the basement, a quantity of canned fruit which Father Coughlin had collected for distribution to charity had been smashed. The detectives said that only the unmistakable smell of black powder gave them the clue to the kind of explosive used.

Hanging from the frame of a window the officers found a long white cord, with which the bomb apparently had been lowered into the basement and held in place by the window frame. With only the cord as a clue, the detectives at once sought to re-enact the movements of the person who placed the bomb. Others searched the neighborhood for possible witnesses who might have seen an automobile near the home, but none was found. A general police broadcast was issued for suspicious automobiles and persons, and a thorough search of the home was made for fingerprints. But detectives admitted the clues were slender.

1932 LICENSES GO OUT TODAY

Over 450,000 Automobiles Unlicensed. No Last Minute Rush

Lansing, March 30. (AP)—Michigan automobile owners today were warned by Frank D. Fitzgerald that 1933 license plates must be purchased by tomorrow night.

The secretary said no further extension will be granted for the purchase of new plates. Two postponements have already been allowed. His office has been flooded with appeals the last few days for further delay but he said "We have done everything we can to relieve the situation."

Among the appeals rejected by Fitzgerald are those to accept scrip and claims against local governmental units in payment of new plates.

Fitzgerald estimated that more than 450,000 automobiles are without plates. He said approximately 40 per cent of the vehicles licensed last year have not been relicensed. The total with plates, he estimated, is about 750,000 compared with 1,236,000 a year ago.

Revenue from the weight tax has declined almost half, Fitzgerald revealed. Up to March 28 only $7,267,397 had been received compared with $13,443,488 the same date last year. The reduction is due not only to a decline in the number of plates purchased but also to the installment plan of purchase granted under a new emergency law.

Despite the approach of the purchase deadline there was no unusual last minute rush here today for new plates.

Negro Defendant Dozes At Trial; Has Rabbit Foot

Decatur, Ala., March 30. (AP)—The big red book, in which names of prospective jurymen are kept, today was brought into court as defense counsel sought to quash the venire drawn for the trial of Haywood Patterson, Chattanooga negro, indicted with eight others in the "Scottsboro case" of charges of attacking two white girls.

Minnesota Junks All Liquor Laws

St. Paul, March 30 (AP)—The state senate today passed and sent to the governor a bill repealing all state prohibition laws passed since 1918, except provisions making sellers criminally liable for death or physical or mental impairments resulting from liquor sold by them. The governor said he would sign it. Beer of 3.2 per cent alcohol already has been legalized, effective April 7.

MONROE HAS FIRE

Monroe, Mich., Mar. 30 (AP)—Fire in a partially unoccupied building in the downtown district Thursday temporarily endangered other buildings in the business section. The blaze started on the third floor, which was unoccupied. Dr. Denias Dawe, former mayor, had an office on the second floor. Damage was estimated unofficially at $2,000.

SHORT WORKING WEEK APPROVED

Aid to Employment Seen in 5-Day Week, 6-Hour Day

Washington, March 30 (AP)—A compulsory five-day week, six-hour day for industry was voted today by the senate judiciary committee, which reported to the senate that it would put more than 6,000,000 persons to work and "aid in restoring hope and confidence throughout the land."

The bill, approved 11 to 3, was sponsored by Senator Black (D., Ala.), and extensive hearings were held with many witnesses claiming it was unconstitutional.

In dealing with this phase, the committee reported to the senate that:

"This bill proposes to try a shorter working day and week in modern industrial chaos and confusion for a term of two years," the report continued.

"We believe it will put more than six millions of America's unemployed to work; remove them from the rolls of public or private charity; and increase the nation's power to purchase the nation's goods."

Senator Black said he would try to get quick action on the bill in the senate.

Mrs. Judd Denied Commutation In Death Sentence

Phoenix, Ariz., March 30. (AP)—The Arizona board of pardons and paroles today denied a commutation of the death sentence imposed on Winnie Ruth Judd for the slaying of two women in Arizona's celebrated "trunk murder."

The board, however, granted her a reprieve until April 21 to avoid execution of the death sentence on Good Friday.

The board addressed a letter to Governor B. B. Moeur in which it said "This board respectfully declines to make any recommendation to the governor of the state of Arizona for a commutation of sentence."

Governor Moeur, under Arizona law, has no power to commute the sentence without recommendation of the board of pardons and paroles.

"Friday, April 14," the board told the governor, "is Good Friday. The board of pardons and paroles is of the opinion that, in deference to this day, a reprieve of one week should be granted."

Accompanying the letter to the governor was a proclamation for

VOLSTEAD LAW AGAIN MODIFIED

Restrictions Removed From Medicinal Prescriptions

Washington, Mar. 30 (AP)—Congress today approved another modification of the Volstead law which would remove restrictions on the quantity of medicinal liquor issued through prescriptions.

Final action came in the house by a standing vote of 153 to 59 on the Celler-Copeland bill. It was jammed through the senate yesterday without a roll call and now goes to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature.

Beer Is Problem

Supported by the Democratic leadership, the measure easily weathered a stormy session in which Representative Blanton (D., Tex.), led the opposition. The Texan made a futile effort to kill the bill in a parliamentary move to strike out the enacting clause but was defeated 86 to 17.

Coincident with house action, other official agencies over the capital were wrestling with the problems presented by another modification of the Volstead act—legalization of beer April 7.

Briefly these developments were:

1. Secretaries Swanson and Dern joined forces in studying the handling of the beverage in the navy and army, working out a

Jewish Boycotts Start Saturday

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Mar. 30 (AP)—Despite warnings from business, industrial and financial circles that a boycott against the Jews may prove to be a two-edged sword, National Socialist party headquarters seem determined to begin a nation-wide boycott at ten o'clock on Saturday morning, as scheduled.

An appeal to President Von Hindenburg to halt the impending boycott was presented by the General Council of Jews and the board of Berlin's Jewish community. The signers sent their petition also to Nazi cabinet members, who have not been directly identified with any anti-semitic activities.

SENATE PICKS MORGANS FOR STOCK PROBE

STEPS ARE TAKEN TO CORRECT ABUSES

Washington, Mar. 30 (AP)—A senate investigation headed tonight towards the inmost files of one of the world's great banking houses, J. P. Morgan and company, determined to bring to light anything that has a bearing on the central task of correcting stock and bond sale practices.

Authority to inspect the Morgan records was sought of the senate by its banking committee, which disclosed it had been rebuffed so far in its efforts to bring the big private banking concern into the light of its stock market investigation. There appeared to be no doubt that the senate would grant this power.

But not even that investigation was allowed to stand in the way of action on the Roosevelt proposal for immediate legislation to bring security issuance and sale under the regulation of the federal government, to afford investors protection against dishonesty and give them full opportunity to know what they are buying.

Both the banking committee of the senate and the interstate commerce committee of the house set for tomorrow morning the start of hearings on this legislation.

Attorney General Cummings and Huston Thompson, one-time member of the federal trade commission, were invited as first witnesses, but Cummings will be unable to appear.

World Economic Conference May Be Held In May

London, March 30. (AP)—World aspects of America's "new deal" became evident here today in conferences between Prime Minister MacDonald and Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large.

They have as their objective convening a world economic conference as soon as possible and breaking the strangle hold that is suffocating world trade.

Both agree that the soon the conference is held the better, and the conference may begin late in May.

Body Of Woman, 48, In Chelsea Swamp

Ann Arbor, Mar. 30 (AP)—The body of Miss Mabel Boggs, 48, of Chelsea, apparently a victim of exhaustion, was found Thursday in a swamp four miles west of that village. She had been missing since Wednesday night. Officials said she apparently had wandered from home and become exhausted, but planned to hold a post mortem examination at the university hospital here.

LABOR OPPOSES CARRIER PLANS

Rail Brotherhoods See More Unemployment Under Dictator

Washington, March 30. (AP)—American railroad labor, with fewer men employed than at any time within the last half century, today voiced opposition to indicated plans of the administration for coordinated operation of the carriers.

Meanwhile, representatives of the American farm bureau federation, the national grange and the farmers union said they were against any regulation of motor carrier rates at this time.

Recommendations dealing with but and truck transportation, however, are not expected to be included in the proposals for emergency transportation legislation which the president is preparing.

Representatives of the 21 standard railroad unions meeting here characterized any plan for one man control of the nation's carriers as a proposal "to deprive thousands of communities of service" and "several hundred thousand workers of work and wages."

Their statement said they opposed any "dictatorship subservient to Wall Street bankers" and "If the days of competition are ended then the only monopoly control which the people will tolerate is actual and direct control by the government."

The railway brotherhoods met in special session here to consider the problem raised by plans for rail coordination.

Tornadoes, Flood Take Death Toll

(By The Associated Press)

A slowly mounting toll, which tentatively stood at 23 dead and nearly three score injured, was left along a property-strewn trail of tornadic winds which last night swept through lumbering camps of east Texas, across the north Red River parish in northwestern Louisiana and into southwestern Arkansas.

Rescue workers, seeking to check up on possible dead and injured in small communities in the storm's path, found their way blocked by swollen streams and almost impassable roads. Disrupted communications added to the confusion.

Rain and Hail

Deaths were reported from Shelbyville, Huntington, Lindalae and San Augustine, in eastern Texas near the Louisiana border, Hall Summit in northwestern Louisiana, and Mount Holley, in the Eldorado vicinity of southwestern Arkansas.

A survey from the air by O. C. Palmer, Tyler, Tex., airport manager, disclosed the storm apparently came from the southwest and traveled northeastward, leveling homes of town and countryside in its path. The houses fell as if bombed, the walls falling outward and scattering like straw.

Rain, hail and lightning accompanied the wind.

Large pine trees were uprooted. Derricks were felled in the Arkansas oil fields.

Town Wiped Out

Physicians and Red Cross officials hastily began to minister to the injured and homeless. Stores in the area were divested of cots and bedding.

Etolle, Tex., a hamlet of about 15 houses was almost wiped out, but physicians found none of its fifty inhabitants had been injured.

The San Augustine vicinity fell victim to what was described as

FEDERAL COURT OPENS TUESDAY

Retrial Scheduled in Case Defended by H. J. Rushton

Marquette, Mich., March 30 (AP)—Federal court officials here are making preparations for the April term of United States district court, which convenes in Marquette next Tuesday with Judge Fred M. Raymond, of Grand Rapids, presiding.

According to Oscar G. Rummler, upper peninsula prohibition enforcement chief, about 35 of the cases to be taken up at this term will involve violations of the national prohibition act. Twelve of the liquor cases are hold-overs from the January term of federal court in Sault Ste. Marie.

Witness Fined $100

Several civil cases are on the docket. Of chief interest will be the re-trial of the $100,000 damage suit brought by Louis Alimentini, 55, of Iron Mountain, against the Ford Motor company, in which Alimenti is asking compensation for alleged disability he claims to have sustained while working in an oil dipping room at the Ford plant in Iron Mountain.

When the case was tried here last October a jury returned a verdict of $6,000 in favor of Alimenti. Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba, immediately petitioned for a new trial, which was granted by Judge Raymond. Chief ground in the petition for a re-trial of the case was based on the contention that testimony given by Dr. Schlei, of Iron Mountain, a witness for the plaintiff, was invalid because the doctor testified while under the influence of liquor. Schlei was fined $100 for contempt of court by Judge Raymond. Ray Derham, Iron Mountain attorney and state senator, is representing Alimenti.

Five Holdup Boys Surrounded, Caught

Lisbon, O., March 30. (AP)—Five youths who held up a gasoline station at Carrolton near here, ran into an aroused countryside late today and were captured after they had been chased and surrounded by deputies, police and citizens of two counties.

Approximately 300 persons—deputies from Columbiana and Carroll counties, police from Salem and East Liverpool and citizens who made up hastily recruited posses—took part in the battle.

Returns To Face Flogging Charge

Kalamazoo, March 30 (AP)—Cody Calloway, 36, was returned here Thursday from Michigan state prison to face a charge of murder for the death of Kathleen Britton, 8, victim of a flogging. River Ice Broken Between Two Soos

Sault Ste. Marie, March 30 (AP)—Navigation between Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and the sister city in Ontario was opened Thursday, after the motor ferry Agoming broke through river ice to the American landing. Thick ice on the American side made necessary the use of dynamite. Navigation through the Sault ship canal is expected to open April 15.

PUBLIC FUNDS ARE RELEASED

Unopened Banks May Pay Out Secured Deposits

Washington, March 30. (AP)—Further steps toward restoration of normal banking conditions were taken by the treasury today promulgating new regulations permitting unopened federal reserve member banks to carry on usual fiduciary business, and state member banks to pay out deposits which are lawfully secured.

The first of the regulations revoked a previous one issued on March 7 which denied to trust company members, and those national banks operating trust departments the right to pay out or permit the withdrawal of coin or currency.

The new order permitted the transaction of such fiduciary business in the normal and usual manner, and allowed the banks to make payments on accounts of the principal or income of trusts or other fiduciary funds. It provided, however, that no withdrawals of trust funds could be made from any other department of the bank.

Under the second regulation, state member banks unopened were privileged to permit withdrawal of lawfully secured deposits. This makes available to depositors virtually all public funds, and monies which individuals and corporations deposit only upon receipt of adequate collateral from the banking institution.

Such withdrawals, however, must be in accord with emergency banking regulations, and must be approved by the appropriate state authority.

FOREST CAMP BILL IS SENT TO PRESIDENT

THIRD EMPLOYMENT ENTERPRISE IS PUBLIC WORKS

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
(Ass'd Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Mar. 30 (AP)—The second step in the administration's vast three-point unemployment and hunger relief program—the appropriation of $500,000,000 for direct federal grants to the states—received overwhelming approval of the senate today and was sent to the house where passage is expected Monday.

The vote, 55 to 17, came after congressional action had been completed on the first part of the Roosevelt fast-moving relief legislation—to authorize the employment of about 250,000 men on conservation work in the forests.

Administration advisers already are at work on the third unemployment aid proposal and a

Labor Gives Advice

This will call for a huge public works enterprise to be financed by a federal bond issue rather than appropriations from the treasury as in the past—on the theory that future generations shall bear part of the expense for buildings that will last for years to come.

Meanwhile, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said in a statement that organized labor was ready to submit recommendations upon all questions presented tomorrow at a meeting called by Secretary Perkins to consider unemployment relief measures.

The statement was issued after a conference attended by representatives of unions affiliated with the federation. The meeting tomorrow will consider emergency relief as well as a long-time program to improve the condition of labor.

End R. F. C. Relief

Topics listed for discussion include unemployment relief, a public works program, shorter working hours, how to increase the purchasing power of wage earners, unemployment insurance, home mortgage problems and how to return labor to its normal employment.

The $500,000,000 for direct outlays to the states for aid to the suffering would be raised under the measure, by Reconstruction Finance corporation borrowing, subject to the approval of the president.

A federal relief administration would be set up to supervise distribution of this and the balance

President Gets Permission For His Swim Tank

Washington, March 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt today signed a bill authorizing him to construct a swimming tank in the White House.

The legislation also permits the government to accept donations for the pool given by the public through a group of newspapers.

Swimming is the chief executive's favorite exercise, and he has missed during the strenuous days since he has been in the White House.

DELTA COUNTY GETS MUCH AID

$1400 Daily Is Spent by State in Highway Work

Statistics were compiled yesterday showing that for every working day of the construction season for the past 14 years the Michigan state highway department has expended an average of $1760 a day for road construction and maintenance in Delta county.

Following is the statement issued yesterday:

"To give some idea of what the road building program of the state highway department has meant in the past three years the following figures should be of interest.

"Since January 1, 1919, to January 1, 1933, the state highway department has expended for construction and maintenance $3,765,127, which is an average of about $1700 a day for every working day during the construction season for the past 14 years, and about $225 a day for winter maintenance. During this period they built 28.6 miles of concrete, 10 large steel and concrete bridges and three grade separations, also about 76 miles of various types of tar treated and gravel roads. There is now under construction 4.7 miles of gravel road from Rapid River to Brampton, and 2.6 miles of clearing and grading from Rapid River west and south. Survey has just been completed from Rapid River to Nahma Junction which will be graded and concreted in the coming year if funds are available.

"The department has secured for this county about $30,000 of R. F. C. funds during the months of January, February and March and there is a large unexpected balance which will put men to work as soon as the frost goes out.

"From the foregoing it would appear anything in the nature of a road building holiday would be a severe loss to this community."

HEAVY VOTE INDICATED

A heavy vote is indicated for the city of Munising and the county of Alger at the election next Monday.

The city of Munising will elect a new mayor, three supervisors and two constables and will vote also on the question of expending the sum of not more than $800 "for investigating the electric utility rates and the feasibility of a municipal power plant for the city of Munising."

An agitation has been started in Munising among business men and private property owners and citizens in favor of the city acquiring an electric plant of its own, either through purchase of the present plant or the installation of a new one, providing the purchase price of the present plant should prove excessive in price. The proposition now before the voters is to determine proper cost of installation and operation of such a plant. If the proposition to make a survey is rejected the question, of course, will be dropped.

Another special ballot is for the purpose of determining whether the power acquired by the city by vote for maintaining a municipal band shall be revoked. The city may now tax the property owners for a municipal band, but such an appropriation has been made but once since the city acquired the power.

On these two questions none but taxpayers may vote.

Another special ballot is the so-called beer ballot which provides for the election of delegates pledged against the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and the ratification, or the Twenty-First Amendment. The wet candidate in this district is L. B. Chittenden of Manistique and the dry candidate is George A. Baldwin of this city. The question of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the ratification of the Twenty-First Amendment is of vital interest to all. It is interesting to note that not all the voters are posted on the subject. Suffice it to say that in this county it is but necessary to vote for Mr. Chittenden if you are wet and George A. Baldwin if you are dry.

The city ballot contains the names of five candidates for mayor, seven for supervisor and two for constables. Candidates for mayor are C. G. Kemp, Wallace H. Masters, Edward P. Kling, Austin Leiphart and William W. Carmody. For supervisors: John Saul, C. C. Peck, Levi Simoneau, Geo. Leiphart, G. C. Baij, Benj. Hankin and William Duffet. Constables: Lawrence, Frank Colbus.

QUIET ELECTION EXPECTED

Newberry is expecting a quiet election. Little or no comment is heard on the streets, and where people congregate there appears to be other topics of conversation more important to them. As the township slate has no opposition what little talk is concerned with the liquor question. That appears to be pretty well settled in favor of repeal. However in this instance the majority of the "drys" are quiet and the avowed "wets" rather talky so little can be depended on for evidence one way or the other. The general opinion appears to be that Luce county will go over big for repeal.

STOP FEEDING CHILDREN

This week ends the activities of the Children's Food Fund which has fed more than 100 children since the beginning of the school year. No money on hand and none in sight has caused this condition.

To date this year the fund has expended $293 serving around 120 children each day making a total of more than 10,000 meals served for just under 3 cents each. The work has been done by volunteer help from among the women of the town, assisted by teachers and students. Mrs. A. L. Newmark who supervised the work last year also took it in charge this year but was forced to give it up when she broke her leg a few months ago. Since then Mrs Rhoda Leighton has done excellent work, attending to the purchasing and giving it general supervision.

Children are being notified that they must bring their lunches, starting Monday. It is believed that these meals were and are a real necessity and that suffering will result unless some manner is found of supplementing the home feedings.

UNKNOWN PAIR BEATS GROCER

Iron Mt. Man Attacked During Attempted Hold Up

Iron Mountain, Mar. 30 (Special)—Caesar Mannicor, age about 65, proprietor of a small confectionery store on Vulcan street, north side, was attacked and beaten by one of two unknown men who entered his place shortly before 9 o'clock last evening and demanded a cup of coffee. Mannicor believes the men intended to hold him up.

Mannicor lives alone in the rear of the store. At about 8:30 o'clock, he said, the men entered and one, the taller of the two, bought a package of cigarets, offering a $5 bill. Mannicor gave the man his change and the latter then asked where he and his companion could find a restaurant.

Mannicor told them and the pair left the store, but returned again within a few minutes. The proprietor, meanwhile, had gone to his living quarters and was sitting there reading a newspaper. The taller of the two approached him and demanded a cup of coffee. Mannicor replied that he had none.

With that, the victim related, the man took a revolver out of his pocket and, reversing it in his hand, struck Mannicor over the head with the butt. The two grappled and Mannicor was pushed back into his bedroom. Then, suddenly, both men started for the door.

Drops Gun in Flight

In his flight the taller man dropped the gun, a .22 calibre revolver, and did not stop to rocever it. Mannicor, although badly beaten about the head, was not knocked out, and notified relatives of what had happened. He was taken to the Iron Mountain General hospital where his injuries were attended by Dr. W. H. Alexander.

Officers Gust Hassell and Frank Pipp conducted a search for the men, but were unable to find them. Mannicor could not give a clear description of the pair, noting only that one was taller than the other.

Further inquiry this morning by police disclosed that two men answering the brief description given by Mannicor had been seen hanging about the district during the early evening, but no one had any idea as to their identity.

Mannicor has conducted the small store at the same stand for more than 20 years and is well known.

Michigamme Man Found Drowned; Case Is Mystery

L'Anse, Mich., March 30 (AP)—Fully clothed and his hand clutching an unlighted cigar, the body of Fred Treado, 66, of Webster Location, Michigamme, was found in 15 feet of water in Keweenaw bay today by two ice cutters, Albert Roy and William Conners, who went on the ice to recover equipment.

Sighting a hat on the ice, the men broke the covering and saw the body on the bottom of the bay, about 200 feet from shore.

Treado, supervisor of Spurr township, Baraga county, came here Monday to transact business with Peter Alexander. Alexander went into a store, leaving Treado alone in his car and when Alexander returned, Treado was gone. Unable to locate Treado, Alexander notified Sheriff Meador Seavoy who started a search which was discontinued when it was reported Treado had returned home.

An inquest will be conducted later by Coroner Thomas Cosgrove. Officers were unable to explain Treado's drowning.

Nine Found Guilty In Kalamazoo Case

Grand Rapids, Mich., Mar. 30 (AP)—A federal court jury tonight convicted nine Kalamazoo residents of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, and acquitted three co-defendants.

The men convicted were: Peter, John and Gerard Bushouse, George Corbett, Roy Gulbranson, Leo Lewis, Joseph G. Dunn, Edward McDonald, and Francis Weisenberg. D. O. Brown, druggist, Larkin Ranson, farmer living near Kalamazoo, and John Modderman were acquitted.

The verdict was returned after five hours of deliberation. Bonds of the convicted men were continued by Judge Fred M. Raymond until tomorrow afternoon, when the judge indicated, sentence would be imposed.

Britain Recalls Envoy In Russia

Moscow, Mar. 30 (AP)—The British embassy announced today that Ambassador Sir Esmond Ovey had been called to London to report on the arrest of several British subjects employed by the Metropolitan-Vickers Electrical company.

It was said on excellent authority that he is not likely to come back, and this probably will add to the complications which began with raids on the company's offices and the filing of sabotage charges against several technicians.

At least two of the Englishmen will be placed on trial April 9 or 10 charged with violation of sections of the penal code relating to espionage and conspiracy to disclose economic information to foreign states. The maximum penalty is death.

a second tornado. A dozen homes in that are awere demolished.

The storm was felt by virtually every town in southwest Arkansas. High winds also prevailed in parts of Kansas and Missouri. One of tornadic proportions damaged severala afrms in the Richmond, Mo., vicinity where four persons were reported slightly injured.

A wind and electrical storm caused slight damage in Kansas City.

THREE MEN DROWN

Madison, Wis., Mar. 30 (AP)—Floods which swept southwestern Wisconsin today took three lives and caused much damage to property.

Families were forced to flee from their homes, motor and rail traffic was disrupted and merchants hurriedly moved stocks off ground floors as several streams went on rampage.

The dead were: Henry Conklin, 58, Platteville undertaker, his assistant, Frank Cramer, 38, and Mrs. Mayme Steiner Mac Roberts, 28, of Monroe.

The men were drowned in the flood waters of the Platte river after they tried vainly to save their lives by lashing themselves to a telephone pole with straps used to lower coffins. They were driving a hearse to Lancaster when it was swept from the highway.

Mrs. MacRoberts was drowned when she stepped from a stalled automobile and was swept away by the swift current of water which covered the road near Paoli. Two women companions escaped similar fate.

Roads Flooded

Darlington, in Lafayette county, was hardest hit. The Pecatonica river rose within four hours from a point regarded as not dangerous to a level where it ran through the streets and backed up two blocks on the main thoroughfare. A number of families fled from their homes in boats and merchants hastily moved their stocks upstairs. Farmers used boats to go to town as virtually the entire surrounding rural section was impassable by road.

At Calamine, also in Lafayette county, the water was said to be the highest in 15 years and sections of the Milwaukee railroad tracks there and at Darlington, Gratiot, Mineral Point, and Platteville were under water. About a dozen highways in the same area were closed.

general policy requiring dusting off of records 32 years old.

2. Amos W. W. Woodcocok, the prohibition director, disclosed plans, after a tour to consult with administrators, for substituting new strategy for old after beer becomes legal. His problem under the new legislation will be to prevent shipment of beer into dry states and to curb illegal brewing.

3. Regulations were being prepared by the prohibition bureau and the industrial alcohol commission for handling the beer distribution. Attorney General Cummings said these would be promulgated probably this week.

4. The attorney general said he was not ready to rule upon the entrance of coastwise vessels serving beer into dry ports or how railroads running thrugh wet and dry states may serve beer.

Spending Milions

The commerce department announced that reports to it showed brewers spending millions of dollars with other industries as they prepared to distribute beer on a large scale.

These reports revealed large purchases of passenger automobiles, motor trucks, bottles, barrels, glasses, rubber goods, cereals, malts and other items.

Orders have been placed, the department said, for purchase by brewers of 4,590 trucks and 4,960 passenger cars, with $20,000,000 to be spent annually for maintenance.

Farmers Besiege Alleged Murderer Of Road Laborer

Virginia, Minn., Mar. 30 (AP)—A crowd of angry farmers that besieged John Wyberg in his farm home at Markham near here after he shot one of their number during a dispute over road work, fled tonight on the approach of officials.

Wyberg, his wife and son, all armed, had held off the crowd for several hours under threats to shoot anyone who approached the place.

The disturbance at the Markham home was the third in the last several weeks between farmers and county road workers. The farmers accused county commissioners of unfair distribution of road relief work. The dissenting group was branded as Communist sympahtizers by officials. Twice before a similar group halted road work.

A group attempted today to prevent Wyberg from working and he shot into their midst, wounding Oscar Carlson. He then fled to his home and barricaded himself with his family.

Four deputies remained at the homestead to guard throughout the night.

CUT STATE POLICE

Lansing, Mar. 30 (AP)—The senate today passed and returned to the house for concurrence in amendments a bill giving the commissioner of public safety wide latitude in affecting economies by reducing the state police personnel. After a brief skirmish, however, the membership failed to make the measure immediately effective.

The bill eliminates a provision in the present law requiring the employment of five captains, six lieutenants, 16 sergeants, 20 corporals, and 154 troopers. Instead, the measure would give the commissioner discretion as to the size of his force. Commissioner Oscar G. Olander has already made similar eliminations as authorized by the bill. The measure was recommended by by the commission of inquiry into state governmental costs.

CHAIRMAN COMPLAINS

Lansing, Mar. 30 (AP)—A threat to discontinue meetings of the senate judiciary committee was made on the floor of the chamber today by Chairman Leo K. Karwick, Democrat, Detroit.

Scoring "some of the members" for not attending committee sessions, Senator Karwick said meeting will cease unless attendance increases. He later charged that Senators Joseph C. Foster, Lansing, and Gordon F. Van Eenenanm, Muskegon, both Republicans, had been lax in their attendance.

Senator Ray Derham, Republican, Iron Mountain, charged that Chairman Karwick had not conducted the meetings with promptness. "I haven't been to some of the meetings because no one else was there," he said. "We decided some time ago to meet in the mornings three times a week but nothing was done about it."

Senator Karwick announced that Senators Les A. Gorman, Democrat, Detroit; Earl W. Munshaw, Republican, Grand Rapids, and himself will constitute a subcommittee to consider bills proposing a moratorium on mortgage foreclosures and contractual obligations. He expressed the belief that a consolidated measure containing the proposals will be released by the committee.

Other members of the committee are: Senators Francis A. Kulp, Battle Creek; J. Neil Lamoreaux, Comstock Park, and William Palmer, Flint—all Democrats.

Arson Is Blamed In Ship Disaster

Paris, March 31 (Friday) (AP)—The newspaper Journal said today that arson was definitely found to be the cause of the burning of the French passenger steamship Atlantique, in the English channel January 4 with a loss of 18 lives.

This was the finding in the final report of investigating officials after a hearing in which 160 witnesses gave evidence, the newspaper said. The report was forwarded to the ministry of merchant marine Thursday.

Columbus, O., March 30 (AP)—Governor George White tonight signed the Ohio beer bill which legalizes 3.2 per cent beer in this state beginning April 7. The bill received final approval of the legislature last night.

Zangara's Bullet Not Whole Cause Of Cermak Death

Chicago, March 30 (AP)—Anton J. Cermak, Chicago's mayor, shot down by the would be assassin of President Roosevelt at Miami died of an ulcerative colitis and the bullet wound inflicted by Giuseppe Zangara was only a contributory factor, Dr. Karl A. Meyer, the mayor's physician, said today.

Dr. Meyer, superintendent of the Cook county hosital, was a member of the medical staff which remained at the bedside of the stricken man during his protracted illness in a Miami hospital.

The bullet wound, however, together with Mayor Cermak's general rundown condition and mental uneasiness, said Dr. Meyer, was contributory to the colitis.

"The mayor would have recovered from the bullet wound had it not been for the complication of colitis," Dr. Meyer said. "The autopsy disclosed that the wound had healed. It disclosed also that the other complications were not directly due to the bullet wound."

Debating Squads In Action Tonight

Detroit, March 30 (AP)—Debating teams representing eight Michigan high schools will go into action Friday night in quarter final contests of the Michigan high school debating league sponsored by University of Michigan and the Detroit Free Press.

The eight survivors from among the scores of teams that began in the competition last fall will be paired as follows:

East Lansing at Trenton; Flint Northern at Detroit Mackenzie; Grand Rapids Creston at Grand Rapids Central and Manistique at Saginaw Arthur Hill.

The four winners meet in the semi-finals April 4. The two survivors will compete for the title at Hill auditorium, Ann Arbor, on April 28. This year's subject concerns adoption of the state income tax measure.

Dr. Spencer Named Franklin President

Indianapolis, March 30 (AP)—Dr. William Gear Spencer, interim pastor of the First Baptist church of Pittsburgh, Pa., was elected president of Franklin college at a meeting of the board of directors here tonight.

Dr. Spencer was president of Hillsdale (Mich.) college for eleven years before going to the Pittsburgh church. At Franklin he succeeds Dr. Homer P. Rainey, who resigned two years ago to become president of Bucknell. Professor Robert Kent of the Franklin philosophy department has been acting president.

Income Tax Limit Ends At Midnight

Washington, March 30 (AP)—Those who have not yet filed their income tax returns for last year must do so by midnight tomorrow or pay a penalty.

Ordinarily the time limit is midnight of March 15, but it was extended this year until midnight on March 31, to enable persons whose funds were tied up in banks to arrange to pay at least the first quarter installment.

The one-fourth of the annual tax postponed from March 15, bears interest until March 31, at 6 per cent per year.

FOREST CAMP BILL IS SENT TO PRESIDENT

of the original $300,000,000 given the R. F. C. for such relief, thus ending the corporation's activities in this field.

Limits Prescribed

Forty per cent, or $200,000,000 of the fund, would be apportioned to the states, territories and the District of Columbia on the basis of one-third of the amount of all public moneys spent by the individual states in the three months prior to receiving the federal donation.

No state could receive more than 15 per cent of the total. The same limitation was applied to the $300,000,000 loan act, but this was repealed earlier this week to permit Illinois, which had exhausted its allotment, to borrow more.

Only two Democrats — Bailey, North Carolina, and Gore, Oklahoma—voted against the bill, which was sponsored by Senators Wagner (D., N. Y.), Costigan (D., Colo.) and LaFollette (R., Wis.).

Republicans Vote No

Fifteen Republicans also voted against the bill, while 42 Democrats, 12 Republicans and the one Farmer-Labor senator, Shipstead, Minnesota, favored it.

Warning that the government was embarking on the "dole" issued from the Republican side, while Democrats replied the measure was an emergency one to run only for two years.

Senator Bankhead (D., Ala.) tried vainly to tack on an inflation amendment providing for issuance of $1,000,000,000 in new currency on which 52 two-cent postage stamps would have to be placed before the money could be redeemed after a year. The proposal was rejected without a roll call.

CERTAIN OF PASSAGE

Washington, Mar. 30 (AP)—Senate approval of President Roosevelt's far-reaching farm relief bill—one of the basic points in his recovery program—was forecast today even by opponents of the measure.

With the major test yet to come in the senate agriculture committee, members of that group today voted three changes in the bill, none affecting the heart of the program, which is intended to curtail farm production and boost prices.

Peanuts and flax were added by the committee to the list of basic commodities in the measure and efforts will be made tomorrow to include oats, potatoes, citrus and other fruits before it is sent to the senate floor.

The group also deleted provisions that the secretary of agriculture in fixing the processing tax rates should consider the effect on unemployment, wage scales and the rate of consumption.

George Morgenthau, Jr., chairman of the farm board, today outlined a program to expediate sale of commodities held by farm marketing cooperatives which have farm board loans.

He appointed H. E. Babcock of Ithica, New York, a coorepative expert, to assist the organizations in moving the stored products into consumption channels "in an orderly manner." The commodities have been pledged as collateral for $157,236,323 in board loans.

STARTS IN APRIL

Washington, Mar. 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt's reforestation proposal returned to him today from congress in the form of a measure that needed only his signature to enact into law its provisions for putting 250,000 men to work.

The amended bill reached the executive office in late afternoon and Mr. Roosevelt took it over to the White House for study before signing it, probably tomorrow.

Machinery in the labor, war agriculture and interior departments is in readiness to carry out its terms for forestation and employment.

Enrollment of the workers will be supervised by the labor department, and the president wants this to begin within two weeks.

This will start the labor secretary, Frances Perkins, on her big peace-time recruiting task.

A still open question today was the exact method of procedure that would be followed in selecting urban idle for the elemental struggle with soil erosion.

Set State Quotas

Another problem was to what extent the unemployed men of the forest regions would be allowed to enroll in the camps, and a system of quotas by states was being worked out.

It was regarded as probable that most of the workers to be selected would be those who have come to the cities from the country and are now unemployed.

The forestry service is busy selecting sites where the reforestation efforts in a thousand or more camps of about two hundred men each are planned.

The agricultural department through its forestry service under R. Y. Stuart, actually will operate the work camps.

It is the president's belief that the whole project can be put in full swing by midsummer, and he is hopeful of having thousands at work within a month.

Congress completed its work on the legislation today when the senate in short order accepted the minor amendments added to the bill yesterday by the house.

Vice President Garner and Speaker Rainey signed it shortly afterwards, and the enrolled bill was sent to the White House.

Mrs. Judd Denied Commutation In Death Sentence

reprieve ready for the governor's signature.

No "Self Defense"

Mrs. Judd is sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Agnes Anne Leroi. For the slaying of Hedvig Samuelson she has not been tried. An attempt made yesterday to have a date set immediately for trial on that charge failed when Superior Judge Howard C. Speakman dismissed the long-pending murder information.

In her plea to the board of pardons and paroles Mrs. Judd declared she killed both women in defense of her own life in a fight in which they were the aggressors.

"A thorough and thoughful consideration of all the testimony and Ruth Judd's own statements to the board," said a formal brief setting forth the board's findings, "together with a careful review of all the facts and circumstances attendant upon the tragedy compels the board to believe that Ruth Judd shot Agnes Anne Leroi through the temple while she was in bed, the muzzle of the gun being held at or near the surface of the skin, and that Mrs. Leroi was not killed in self defense."

The decision of the board was unanimous.

Washington, March 30. (AP)—Attorney General Cummings is considering the possibility of releasing federal convicts imprisoned for violations of the prohibition laws involving beer traffic, but he had no hope to offer them today.

Marquette Lifers Seeking New Trial

Marquette, Mich., March 30 (AP)—Efforts to procure a new trial for Ray Bernstein, Irving Millburg and Harry Keywell, Detroit men serving life sentences in the Marquette prison for the Collingwood Manor murders in Detroit more than a year ago, have not been abandoned.

It became known here today that Fred D. Kaplan, a New York City attorney, and Joseph Bernstein, of Detroit, brother of Ray, had been here several days and had held conferences with the three lifers at the prison. Kaplan and Bernstein left here Wednesday night.

Prison officials declined to comment on Kaplan's visit, but it was understood that his purpose in coming here was to get statements from Bernstein, Millburg and Keywell which will be submitted, with other records, in an appeal for a new trial.

STATE WOULD LOSE $7,500,000

IF THE state of Michigan should suspend its highway construction program, as proposed by the Democratic candidate for state highway commissioner, the people of the state of Michigan will continue to pay the federal tax on gasoline and oil, levied in Michigan and no part of that fund will be expended in this state.

The federal government, for the past year, has levied a tax of one cent a gallon on all gasoline and four cents a gallon on all lubricating oils sold in the state of Michigan.

Under the highway construction program followed by State Highway Commissioner Grover C. Dillman and which he proposes to continue, particularly in this section of the state, funds collected by the federal government in gasoline and oil taxes, are repaid to Michigan in the form of federal aid in highway construction. If no federal aid highways are constructed, as proposed by the Democratic candidate for highway commissioner, funds collected from this source in Michigan, will be paid out to aid highway construction in Pennsylvania, Mississippi and every other state in the union continuing its highway building program.

The federal government collected in the state of Michigan last year a total of $6,500,000 in gasoline taxes and slightly in excess of $1,000,000 in lubricating oil taxes. Thus if the state of Michigaan discontinues its highway construction program, a total of more than $7,500,000 collected in this state, will be spent by the federal government to aid highway construction in some other state.

APPROPRIATIONS DELAYED

MEMBERS of the Michigan house of representatives have halted all appropriation making legislation, until it is determined by what means funds for appropriations for the support of the state government and state institutions, are going to be raised. Such a course is, unquestionably, soundly founded. Early in the present session there was a promise given by the administration that a direct tax upon property would be eliminated and a sales tax substituted, not only as a means of providing direct aid for schools, unable to function under the limit of local taxation necessary under the 15 mill tax limitation imposed through the election of last fall, but also to provide funds for the support of all units of state government. It is believed that the administration still adheres to such a plan, although little has been heard of it in recent weeks, because of the interposition of emergency legislation, made necessary by Michigan's banking situation.

Appropriations for all state purposes must, of necessity, be limited to the ability of the people of Michigan to pay and in addition, in view of the present muddled tax situation, it should also be necessary to first establish by what means funds of any kind are to be derived.

There is also probably in the back of the minds of the legislators at Lansing the belief that the minimum needs of the state and its institutions, should first be established before any tax raising program of any kind is considered. Certainly the amount that must be raised cannot be determined until the absolute need is established.

The action taken by the state house of representatives should meet with the approval of all thinking people in the state.

THE CONSERVATORS

SEVERAL upper peninsula banks are now in the hands of conservators. In many instances these conservators are former executive officers. The public wonders just what a conservator is, and what his appointment signifies. There has, unfortunately, been no detailed official pronouncement on this subject, either from the treasury or from the

A conservator is, it appears, akin to a liquidator, but still substantially different. He is an appointee of the controller of the currency, or of the state banking department, as the case may be, who takes control of the bank to which he may be appointed from its former officials. But whereas a bank taken over by a liquidator, or receiver, is closed, and the sale of its assets to yield return to the depositors is undertaken, a bank in the hands of a conservator remains a going concern, under varying restrictions, and there is chance, and in some cases probability, that it will finally be turned over to its former officials, to be conducted under their management, as before the conservator waas appointed.

The appointment of a conservator, therefore, still leaves open the chance that with restoration of bond values, the thawing out of loans and perhaps the investment of some new money, a bank may reach, within reasonable time, a liquid position. Thus resort to appointment of a conservator shows a bank to be in better position than one that is closed for liquidation, and may mean that the margin by which it was determined that a conservator would have to be aacquainted was a close one.

This new official and the new function with which he is charged take cognizance of the condition that with gradual restoration of confidence, and restoration of some of the lost values that will flow from it, the assets of all banks will be greatly strengthened. It is an effort to save to their stockholders and the communities which they serve, and thus to conserve the interests of the depositors, the greatest possible number of the marginal banks, those whose condition was not such as to warrant immediate licensing for reopening, but still was good enough to offer a chance for ultimate survival.

A TRAGIC EXAMPLE

IN CASE you have wondered whether there is really any need to have the federal government exercise a far stricter control over stock issues, security speculation and financial operations generally, you might ponder over the tragic scene that took place before Bankruptcy Referee Garfield Charles in Chicago the other day.

It was the last day for filing claims against two defunct Insull financial houses and before Charles there rose a mound of worthless paper which weighed a full ton.

This tremendous mass of paper represented claims totaling $300,000,000, sent in by some 21,000 investors. Today it is nevt to worthless. Speaking with moderation, Referee Charles called it "the tragedy of the century."

No form of federal regulation can be too drastic if it prevents a thing like that from happening again.

WHERE TO GET FACTS

COL. CHARLES W. DECKER, in charge of coordinating medical services for the earthquake-striken area in southern California, discovered when he went to work that one of his biggest jobs was to quiet a current of fear created by panicky and ill-informed radio broadcasts.

He has expressed great indignation over the dissemination of "ugly, unfounded rumors, spread by quavering radio announcers, starting after the first earthquake shock Friday night in the broadcast of terrorizing messages of tidal waves, vast death lists, famine, pestilence and horrors that could be conjured only in a terror-stricken and uninformed mind."

Southern California had a bad time of it in the quake, to be sure; but things weren't nearly as bad as the radio reports indicated. And the moral, once again, seems to be—when you want to know what has happened, read your newspaper. You'll save yourself the trouble of cluttering up your mind with a lot of false "news" that originates in some announcer's skull.

ONE I LOVE

(By NEA Service) BY LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

CHAPTER XXXI

It was Betty who spoke. She said, "Oh—you're my mother's secretary, I suppose! I'm Mrs. Carlyle and this is my husband. You'll find my mother upstairs."

She turned, as though dismissing a servant, and sat down on the davenport.

Janet said, "How do you do," and then, "Thank you," in a voice that was not quite so uncontrolled as it seemed to her. Then she was gone but there had been time for her to note the puzzled surprise on Rolf's face and then see it disappear almost immediately.

Betty was saying as Janet left them, "But of course it's the best way. Everything's all settled! Hand me a cigarette, darling—"

Blindly, seeking only one thing in the world—escape—Janet ran up the stairs. She reached the top of the flight, turned toward her room and then Mrs. Curtis' voice stopped her.

"Oh—Janet!"

Mrs. Curtis came hurrying down the hall. "They're here!" she exclaimed. "Betty and her husband. They didn't go to New York after all. Oh, I'm so excited!"

Her face was flushed and she was beaming. Janet thought of what Dr. Roberts had said. "No excitement." But what could she do? It was happiness that made Mrs. Curtis so radiant. Better for her to have been prepared for the homecoming but it was too late to do anything about that now.

"Yes, I saw them," Janet told her. "In the living room. Miss Dursham sent the drapery samples and I was looking for you—"

"Put them in my room," Mrs. Curtis said. "I can't look at them now. And, Janet, don't say anything about the apartment, please! I'm going to tell them about it this evening. I want it to be a complete surprise!"

"Mrs. Curtis, aren't you going to have your afternoon rest? Don't you think you'd better—"

"Rest? With so much to think about, so much to do? Oh, I couldn't! I've already spoken to Bertha about the dinner. She's getting Betty's room ready now. And I want you to telephone Miss Dursham that everything will have to be rushed! Tell her to call me in the morning."

Janet agreed and went on down the hall to her room. Miss Dursham could wait. She closed the door behind her and sank into the big chair where many another stormy battle had been waged.

She had to decide what to do now. Janet felt caught. She had assured herself it would be so easy to slip away before Rolf and this girl he had married returned. But Rolf was in this house now. Downstairs. She saw again that look of surprise on his face as she entered the living room. How quickly, how easily he had veiled it!

All at once Janet's head dropped to her arm and her shoulders shook with sobs. What was the use of pretending? Rolf was still the man she loved and he always would be. The hot tears smarted on her cheeks. She wiped them away but there were more tears.

"Oh, Rolf!" her heart cried out, "Oh, Rolf—!"

And so she arose several minutes later with nothing settled. She would have to go away. But when? What was she to tell Mrs. Curtis? Janet didn't settle any of these questions. She bathed her eyes with cold water and used powder and some rouge to cover the pallor of her cheeks. Then she went downstairs to the little room back of the library and telephoned to Miss Dursham.

She didn't see Rolf or Betty either again that evening. Janet's dinner was served in her room. She asked Lucy to bring the evening newspaper and read down the column headed, "Help Wanted—Female."

There was nothing very promising. "Girl for general and care of children," the first advertisement read. And then, "Girl for general housework." "Housekeeper, part time," "Housework, general, experienced," "Piano accompanist for singer." There was one advertisement that read, "Saleslaidies and canvassers. Must have $10 cash bond."

But there was not a single request for an experienced secretary. There were no advertisements calling for office workers of any sort. Janet wasn't a piano accompanist nor a saleslady nor a canvasser. She couldn't even show a reference for general housework and most of the advertisements called for references.

"Maybe there'll be something tomorrow morning," she thought hopefully and put the newspaper aside.

There were no advertisements for secretaries or stenographers or typists in the morning paper. "Help Wanted—Female" read much as it had the night before. Janet decided to call at an employment agency the next time she was down town.

But she didn't. For two days she scarcely left the house. Betty's arrival catapaulted the household into new schedules and new activity. Janet scarcely had a word with Mrs. Curtis in private. There were telephones ringing and visitors dropping in and Mrs. Curtis and Betty driving off for luncheons and teas. There were invitations to be issued for the dinner Mrs. Curtis was to give in honor of her daughter and her son-in-law. There were notes to be answered and notes to be written and engagements to be cancelled and engagements to be made.

For a week or until the new apartment would be ready Betty and Rolf were to remain with Mrs. Curtis. Aside from the extra work Janet was surprised to find how little this changed her own routine. She scarcely saw Rolf. Mornings she breakfasted and was at her work before he appeared. Betty's breakfast was always served to her in bed and Mrs. Curtis began to adopt the same plan. In the evening Betty and Rolf usually went out for dinner or if they were at home there were guests and Janet dined alone.

She began to think less of going away. For one thing, there was no place to go. No place but back to Mrs. Snyder's boarding house and a search for work that seemed hopeless. She was busy here and she had forced herself to believe that if only she could keep busy enough she could forget. Besides it was evident that Rolf wished to avoid her as much as she wanted to avoid him. In a few days more he and Betty would be gone and things would be as they had been.

It was Betty Carlyle who completely dominated the household. Though Janet saw her only occasionally it was Betty and not Mrs. Curtis for whom most of the telephone calls came and most of the appointments were made.

Janet told herself that she was unfair. She tried to make allowances but she could not bring herself to like this pretty, pampered, strong-willed daughter to whom Mrs. Curtis was so devoted. There was no doubt that Betty was popular with the young men and women of her "crowd." The telephone calls, the swank roadsters parked before the door and the dinner engagements proved that. At any time of the day or night it seemed Betty might arrive home with a group of noisy guests. If it were at night Rolf would be with them. Otherwise

FREE MOTHERS

Once motherhood transcended doubt:
To be a mother was to be Another Mary, girt about
With some of her divinity.
But now new thought has set her "free,"
Has eased the burden that she bore:
The old responsibility,
It says, is motherhood's no more.

Her only duty is to bear,
No more her duty is to rear.
The mind shall be the teacher's care,
The soul shall be the preacher's fear.
Yet all she says the child shall hear,
And all she does the child perceive,
The prototype forever near,
Whatever moderns may believe.

Ah, yes, whatever man may say,
God has not said it. Motherhood
Is still the same as in the day
When by our cots our mothers stood.
A mother could not, if she would,
And should not shirk it, if she might:
Her heart is still the source of good,
And her example source of right.

ROCK EXPECTS HOT CONTEST

Three Full Tickets in Field for Township Offices

Rock, Mich., Mar. 30, (Special)—With three full tickets in the field, the annual Maple Ridge township primary election promises to be the most closely contested in years. The election will be held at the town hall on Monday, April 3.

Much interest is being shown in the campaign this year mostly because of the presence of three tickets instead of the usual one and occasional two, of past years. Most of the candidates on all three tickets have been electioneering during the past two weeks. There appears to be no real issue at stake and the candidates are conducting their own individual campaigns.

The regular township ticket, headed by Jay Kleiber for supervisor, is as follows: Clerk, Earl England; treasurer, Otto Brukardt; highway commissioner, Emil Maki; justice of peace, John Koski; board of review, George Shorkey; constable, Verne Bailey and pondmaster, Henry Jokela.

The Democratic ticket is led by Harry Hall, present supervisor who was defeated at the caucus several weeks ago. The ticket includes the following candidates: clerk, Herman Johnson; treasurer, Martin Kaminen; highway commissioner, Fred Nygaard; justice of peace, Wallace Bridges, and board of review, Paul Seppanen.

The Communist ticket follows: supervisor, Alfred Backman; clerk, Eino Niemela; treasurer, John Lampi; highway commissioner, William Routsola; justice of peace, Einar Leviski; board of review, Oscar Niemi, and constable, Eino Roine.

Rock Personals

Henry LaMontagne, who lives a mile south of Rock, suffered a fractured leg when a hardwood tie was accidentally dropped on it Tuesday morning. Mr. La Montagne was employed by Larson Bros. and was loading ties when the accident occurred. He was rushed to the St. Francis hospital where his leg was set in a special cast. Later he returned to his home here and is resting easily.

Peter Auttonen narrowly escaped being burned to death in a peculiar accident Saturday evening. Mr. Auttonen was attending a dance at a hall near here and during the evening went outside and fell asleep in his automobile. A short time later, some one noticed a fire inside the car, but the doors were locked on the inside and Mr. Auttonen was still asleep, unaware of the impending danger. No implements were at hand for immediate use, and Tom Wurtz, local deputy sheriff, smashed the heavy glass in the door with his fist. Mr. Auttonen was wakened before the flames reached him and was uninjured. Mr. Wurtz, however, was not so fortunate and his hand was badly gashed. The fire was caused by a cigarette igniting the cushion. The car was not badly damaged.

A small crowd attended a Democratic rally at the high school Saturday evening. Prosecuting Attorney William Miller, of Rapid River, was the principal speaker. His talk was devoted to pledges by his party and criticism of the Republican party.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Huff and Mr. and Mrs. Cronje Johnson spent Thursday in Rapid River at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Murchie.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Work, of Escanaba, were guests of their daughter, Miss Josephine Work, at the junior class play Thursday evening.

Joseph Palm, sr., of Houghton, spent several days here this week at the home of his brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Brukardt.

Miss Evelyn Johnson and H. O. Bjork, of Gladstone were business callers at the high school Tuesday.

Miss Vivian Kangas, of Escanaba, spent several days here this week as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry La Montagne.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bawden, of Escanaba, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Huff here Sunday.

Deer Traps Being Used at Blaney

Because of mild weather during the past two winters no deer traps have been operated by the Department of Conservation which for the past several years has been live-trapping and tagging deer in an attempt to obtain accurate information as to the age, sex ratio and migratory habits of these animals. Deer have not congregated during the mild weather and it would have been difficult to lure them to a trap, the department said.

Two traps are being operated this year at Blaney in Schoolcraft county by Blaney Park officials in cooperation with the Conservation Department and the Game Division has received reports of two deer trapped and tagged there within the past two weeks. The first deer trapped at Blaney in 1930 was shot the following season a distance of 14 miles from the place where it was tagged and released. This is the only report that has been received of tagged deer being killed near Blaney.

To date a total of 138 deer have been tagged and released in Michigan and returns have been received and compiled on 29 of these. The longest distance than any of these deer travelled from the place of release was 22 miles, according to returns.

FIRE FIGHTERS START APRIL 15

Conservation Department to Send Out 1,000 Men in State

A crew of approximately 1,000 men, all of them trained and all of them properly equipped will go on duty on the date April 15, prepared to battle the season's forest fires.

The forest fire crew is made up of about 800 "key men," who are called out only when needed; towermen who man approximately 130 fire towers; and regular fire wardens who work for a period of from six to seven months.

The "key men" are selected by local regular fire wardens, and practically the same crew is retained every season because of the training these men have received in forest fire suppression work. The "key men" are summoned only when needed to fight fire, and because of their experience are considered invaluable in directing small fire fighting crews.

The fire crews, selected during the past winter, are now ready for any emergency.

Continuing its policy adopted last year the Department of Conservation will again obtain its "imprest" labor through the various local welfare organizations. The system adopted in 1932 to aid in obtaining employment for those most needing it, proved to be very satisfactory.

During the past winter, the skeleton crew kept at the 14 district headquarters, carried on an extensive forest fire campaign, building and repairing thousands of signs which will be posted along the highways and at tourist camps and painting and repairing equipment.

Most of the early difficulty is usually encountered with grass fires and the department is warning all those wishing to start such fires to first obtain a permit from the nearest fire warden so that the state may avoid the needless expense of sending fire fighting crews to fires that are already being watched.

AMBITIOUS HEN

Circus Bearded Lady Cries Over Washtub

Baltimore, Md. (AP)—It's been a rough coast for Captain Malvina Emily Perry, circus bearded lady, master seaman, prize fighter, railroad switchman, mother and widow.

She just lost her latest job by knocking several teeth from the mouth of her employer because he twitted her about her masculine appearance. Now, by court decree, she must do 16 weeks of washing for him to pay for the false replacements.

Masqueraded as Man

Captain Perry has been having trouble also with the family welfare agency because, in order to receive a man's rations for herself and her 14-year-old son, she masqueraded as a man on emergency work projects and was caught at it.

Life went smoothly, comparatively speaking, for Captain Perry until 1924 when the ship had had inherited from her father sank under an overload and she had to leave the sea.

She was born and raised on that ship, alternating during her girlhood between the duties of a sailor and a cook. She grew stronger than any of the other seamen on board and at intervals she would quit and travel with a circus as a bearded lady, at the same time exhibiting sideshow feats of strength.

Fought Bat Nelson

She boxed Battling Nelson three times in 1907, once, in a 16-round bout, as a challenger for his championship. She has a cauliflower ear to show for it.

In 1917 she served as a diver in the harbor of Brest, using her husband's license. Her lightship was torpedoed and she was captured by the U-79, later being rescued by the English. Her husband was killed in France during the war.

She inherited her father's ship in 1919 and captained it until it sank near Yacatam. Then she got a job as a railroad switchman but lost it when she was arrested for fighting.

Now, at 62, she's just plain Mrs. Perry and must spend 16 weeks over a washtub.

She's been crying about it.

Dear Editor:—

Having read various articles about the issue of Prohibition: I having been a total abstainer since I was a child of 12, when only whisky would suffice. I have observed the conditions of the old fashioned saloon, with its objectional environments; also the years of so-called prohibition. I beg to ask where have our defenders of prohibition been in the last 12 or 13 years? The condition of the old fashioned saloon were centralized, the results of prohibition are dangerously scattered, how can defenders contend that our young people of both sexes as well as our older people are progressing? The issues to modify the Volstead act should be discarded, go backward or forward, which ever way may be most feasable, but quit infringing upon American liberty. We have had plenty of good laws governing liquor in the old saloon days, all we needed was enforcement, but a certain class has accomplished to make people believe that the same human beings who were lax in enforcement in those days should be expected to become white angels; I ask you how many more have become black angels instead since prohibition.

It has been costly to the taxpayer and degrading to the offender, it has made many disregarders of good laws.

See the unquenchible evil that it? Not by force, not by deception has been given birth, but how will you and I assist in destroying tive legislation, but by education.

This may seem foolish to many, but it is our second nature to do the very things we are forbidden; men have drank since Adams time we are told and undoubtedly will until eternity closes in on us, so what is the use?

Washington News Column

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, March 30 (NEA)—Nearly two years of beer—and then repeal. That seems to be the most reasonable guess now being made by the wets who are working to get states to ratify the repeal amendments recently passed by congress. It assumes the drys will be no more fortunate in persuading thirteen states to hold out against it than they have been in stemming the wet tide of the last few years.

Ratification this year is still theoretically possible. But some legislatures have gone home without setting up machinery for election of state conventions and others are unwilling to call special elections in this year when economy and expenditures for relief are so imperative. Most meet only biennially in odd-numbered years and a few probably won't act before 1935.

So it is generally believed now that the requisite 36 states won't have ratified through conventions before the end of 1934 and possibly not until the following spring.

There will be special elections of convention delegates in perhaps half the states which have conventions. A few states may hold them in connection with their spring primaries of 1934. But very few have any statewide election this year, which means that many will wait for 1934.

Before they get through the states will have held the greatest national referendum in the history of the world. Thirteen already have set dates for their wet-dry elections for 1933 and another state for 1934. Legislatures of seven others have provided for referenda, leaving the dates to their governors.

Bills setting up the ratification machinery are pending in many other legislatures.

The first states in line are Michigan, with an election April 3, and Wisconsin electing delegates a day later.

Elections and conventions are likely to operate generally on the same procedure through which we use the presidential electoral college. The constitution had never before been changed except through ratification of amendments by state legislatures, so for awhile the situation as to the form the conventions would take seemed rather chaotic. They were taking all kinds of strange shapes.

But Joseph H. Chaote's Voluntary Committee of Lawyers got together with Jouett Shouse's Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and drew up a model bill for the groping legislators. They held that votes should be statewide and that delegates should be elected at large rather than from counties or congressional districts. This principle has been adopted in most ratification bills introduced in the last few weeks.

Perfunctory Votes

Under that provision, the ratification conventions will be mere matters of form. Delegates will simply go through the motions of casting their vote as would so many presidential electors, since they will be bound in advance. In states where both wet and dry delegates have been elected—by county or district vote—there doubtless will be some debate, although the convention's vote will be known.

Where final action has been taken, provision has usually been made for two slates—one for repeal and one for retention of the eighteenth amendment. But lately it has been argued that the constitution implies that the conventions should be deliberative bodies, which has led to provisions for third slates of unpledged delegates—none of whom are expected to be elected.

Nominations of delegates are to be made in various ways. Michigan provided that the probate judge, the county attorney and the county clerk nominate a wet and a dry. The drys challenged that proposal in the state supreme court, but failed to have it declared unconstitutional. The nominating boards went ahead and nominated the wettest of the wets and the dryest of the drys.

Wets and Drys Busy

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment has fought a proposal in South Carolina to leave nominations to the governor, contending that this method wasn't sufficiently representative. There have been proposals in some states to save money by having the governor appoint legislators and delegates.

The anti-prohibition association has been active in nearly all states through its Washington headquarters and its state units, working against what is considered "bad bills" and advising legislatures as to what those of other states were doing.

Drys also have been active, being particularly bitter against state-wide elections of delegates, claiming that their adherents in rural sections would be put at a disadvantage by large "foreign" elements in the big cities.

In Kansas the drys undertook to rush through a convention bill in the belief that defeat of ratification in a dry state at the outset would have an excellent effect for their cause. But the bill was stalled by adjournment.

Airplane Maps of Three Counties in U. P. Are Available

Airplane mosaic maps of several additional townships in Dickinson, Schoolcraft and Delta counties are now available to the public, it is announced by the Geological Survey Division of the Conservation Department.

The two top townships in the northeast corner of Dickinson county on the so-called Escanaba River tract have been finished, as well as 25 townships in Delta county. Only two Schoolcraft county townships have not been completed.

Mrs. H. Kaufman, first vice president.

Mrs. Emil L'Heureux, second vice president.

At the business meeting Mrs. Robert Pearson, chairman of the welfare committee, reported on work accomplished, which included the making of twenty dresses from Red Cross material, the purchasing of thirty-two pair of stockings and of sixteen undergarments.

Christian Science Churches

"Unreality" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 2.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 100:3): "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 263): "When mortal man blends his thoughts of existence with the spiritual and works only as God works, he will no longer grope in the dark and cling to earth because he has not tasted heaven. Carnal beliefs defraud us."

Judging from the way the administration has been going, this year's Easter rabbit is going to be pulled out of a hat.

PATENTS INCREASE

New York—The necessity and leisure brought about by the depression joined together to cause a great increase in the field of invention. Data gathered by Dr. H. C. Parmelee of New York shows that in 1930, 45,000 patents were granted, in 1931, 51,000, and in 1932, 62,000. Cotton houses, glass bricks, glass blackboards and paper milk bottles are a few of the many inventions brought about by the depression.

Getting in Trim for Easter

Hip roll . . . with opposite arm-swing.

This is the tenth of twelve daily articles by Jac Auer, New York body building expert, outlining exercises to improve your looks and health.

Concentrate today on your hips and abdomen. Reducing your hips gives you the slender form you want.

Toning up the abdomen is helpful, not only in reducing the waistline, but also is excellent for toning up your whole system because it works towards the complete elimination of the system which is essential to health itself, as well as an exuberant, lilting figure.

This exercise is a double one. You swing your shoulders one way, your legs another. It is a particularly fine abdominal squeeze that you get by this opposite swing.

Sit up straight on the floor and rock back as far as you need to get proper balance to lift your feet slightly off the floor, ankles crossed. Your arms instinctively will go out to your sides to balance you. Keep them as near shoulder level as you can, and parallel.

Now swing your legs off the floor to the left side as you swing your arms forcibly to the right side, keeping them at shoulder height. Rest. Now swing your legs off the floor to the right and your arms to the left. Try it a couple of times, resting in between.

Now swing first to one side with your feet, arms in opposite direction, then reverse, completing the exercise. Do it several times, until you can feel your abdomen getting the squeeze.

This exercise works directly on your hips too, and your buttocks. It is an invaluable aid towards complete co-ordination of your body and limb muscles which make for perfect poise.

Dramatic Power Shown by Author Of Passion Play

Robert Hugh Benson, author of "The Upper Room," which is being presented Sunday and Monday evenings at St. George's auditorium, Bark River, by the St. George Dramatic club, under the direction of Rev. Father Tom Drengacz, is best known for the dramatic power of his writing.

Among his gifts was the power of setting forth in very simple words, but with deep intensity of feeling, the mysteries of religion, and it was at the request of the Headmaster of the Westminster Cathedral Choir school that he gave out the story of the Passion of Christ, which set in dramatic form, is "The Upper Room."

His own words of introduction to the play are as follows:

"Here then in simple show, the tale of all those pains we strive to tell, how in that Upper Room He gave Himself to be our meat and drink; how Judas fell and sold his Lord for money. Of that Lord seized in Gethsamane—haled here and there to Caiphas, Herod, Pilate; how Peter denied his Lord; how Magdalene wept; how Joseph had the cup Our Lord had drunk from; of that dolorous Way that went from Pilate's hall to Calvary; of the sun darkened and the rending earth. But most of all of Mary—she who spake so little yet who agonized so much; pondering all things in her heart, as when she had Him on her knees in Nazareth. Look then on this—the Upper Room where He began His Passion.

Everyone is invited to attend the production Sunday or Monday evening. Only a small admission fee to care for production expenses is being charged.

Theatres

"Hard to Handle", with James Cagney, and "Red Haired Alibi" are the titles of the double feature program at the Delft today and tomorrow.

"Hard to Handle" marks James Cagney's return to the screen after an absence of seven months. It is his first picture since "Winner Take All." He is the big noise behind the exploitation of marathon dances, eighteen day diets, treasure hunts and reducing creams which furnish the comedy material bearing the punch of Cagney's trademark. The bad boy of the screen has quit socking females for the time being in favor of leaving his own chin wide open, by stirring up the public with his wild-eyed publicity schemes.

Cagney's romantic partner in this film is Mary Brian, who comes to the screen for the first time as a striking blonde. Ruth Donnelly, who scored such a success as the secretary in "Blessed Event," is cast as the mother who shares comedy honors with Cagney.

Just why it is that red haired girls seem to have the preference on the contemporary screen is something for the producers to explain, but here is another one this time called "Red Haired Alibi."

The picture opens with Theodore von Eltz, Merna Kennedy, Grant Withers, Purnell Pratt, Huntley Gordon, Fred Kelsey and other well known players in the supporting cast.

The narrative deals with a girl possessed of beauty, but lacking a speaking acquaintance with the pattern of life in the modern manner. Her innocence, or ignorance, call it what one may, leads her into marriage with a big time racketeer who uses her to shield himself from a crime that would give him the principle seat in the electrocution chamber of the penitentiary.

Tempting Food One of Best of Spring Tonics

The need of some sort of spring "tonic" was one of those things our grandparents took for granted. Now, with a better knowledge of dietetics, we combat that weary feeling not with queer tasting medicines but with the right sort of food in the right combination.

Sometimes, however, the appetite grows fagged at this season and needs to be stimulated by variety and by foods which are a source of vitamins and of minerals needed by the body.

Sweetbreads, which are the thymus gland of the calf, are among the most delicate of meat dishes and contain these necessary nutritional elements. Here is a way of serving sweetbreads with peas in green pepper shells, which will be a tonic to the most finicky appetite and which will, at the same time, do much to counteract the reason why that appetite may not be good.

Sweetbreads are prepared in this fashion for any method of cooking. Wash in cold water, remove any membrane; parboil for 20 minutes in salted water to which has been added two tablespoons of lemon juice or vinegar for each quart of water. Bring water to the boiling point, then cook gently. Remove from the fire, drain at once and plunge into cold water until ready for use.

Sweetbreads and Peas in Pepper Shells

2 pairs sweetbreads.
3 tablespoons butter.
2 tablespoons flour.
1½ cups milk.
Salt.
2 tablespoons chili sauce.
1 cup cooked peas.
5 or 6 green peppers.
Bread crumbs.

Prepare sweetbreads for cooking. Make a cream sauce by adding the flour to the melted butter, then stirring in the milk gradually. Add salt, chili sauce, peas and sweetbreads to the cream sauce. Have peppers parboiled and prepared as for baking. Arrange them in a casserole and fill with sweetbread mixture. Sprinkle top with crumbs and dot with butter. Put casserole in shallow pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven until the crumbs brown.

The value of liver in counteracting nutritional anemia or any tendency in that direction is becoming generally known. Here is a palatable way of serving this important food.

Baked Calf's Liver

Remove all the sinews and skin from a calf's liver and let it lie in milk for an hour. Dry, salt lightly, spread it generously with chicken fat or butter and roast it to a nice brown in a very hot oven, adding an onion and a green pepper. When about half done, add a few sliced mushrooms and occasionally a little sour cream. Allow 40 to 45 minutes for cooking. Before serving, thicken the sauce a little with flour and cook for several minutes.

Carve the liver in neat slices and garnish with boiled rice.

Another spring dish, both good to taste and good for you, is lamb kidney omelet.

Lamb Kidney Omelet

Take three lambs' kidneys; skin and cut them into thin slices. Put these in a stew pan; sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste and let them simmer until tender. Meanwhile, prepare an omelet with six eggs. Spread the kidneys over it when cooked, sprinkle with a little finely chopped parsley and serve.

With fresh asparagus and a combination fruit salad, this forms a delicious luncheon for any bright spring day.

MOCHA FROSTING

3 tablespoons butter.
2 cups confectioners' sugar.
Dash of salt.
2 tablespoons strong coffee (about).

Cream butter, add sugar and salt gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add coffee slowly until of consistency to spread. Makes enough frosting to cover top of one eight by eight inch cake, or tops of two nine-inch layers.

LOCAL SCHOOL DEBT REDUCED

Payment of $18,213.75 Is Made by Escanaba Board

A payment of $18,213.75 for bond retirement and interest was made by the Escanaba board of education Wednesday, reducing the bonded indebtedness of the public schools to $423,000, Secretary L. M. Schemmel announced yesterday.

The second annual payment of $3,500 on the junior high school indebtedness was included in the amount, also $5,000 of the old bonds, and interest amounting to $9,713.75. Only $20,000 of the old bonded indebtedness remains, while that incurred in the construction of the new junior high school now stands at $403,000.

Teachers of the local schools will receive their regular two weeks salaries on Saturday, one day late, the delay being caused of a temporary lack of funds because of the bond retiral payments.

City Workers Unpaid

Payment of salaries of city employees will be deferred for several days, due to the temporary stringency in the city's financial situation, caused by the heavy demands for poor relief, decline in revenue from the utilities, and tax delinquency, City Manager T. F. Kessler announced yesterday.

Mayor Carl J. Sawyer has been attending a meeting of representatives of counties and municipalities at Lansing this week, called by the Michigan Municipal League because of the threatened crisis in poor relief as a result of the announcement that the Reconstruction Finance corporation would extend no more aid unless the state of Michigan also makes an effort to share the welfare burden. It is hoped that the legislature will take the necessary action to solve the problem faced by virtually every community in Michigan.

City Manager Kessler stated that the city would be forced to invoke more drastic measures for the collection of utility bills in the future as a means of securing much needed revenue.

Betty never seemed to lack for escorts.

Her clothes were beautiful and yet she talked a good deal about "being in rags" and she and Mrs. Curtis went on shopping trips. Remembering Dr. Roberts' instructions Janet worried about this. She was sure, too, that the noisy crowds coming and going at all hours must disturb Mrs. Curtis and interfere with her rest.

When she tried tactfully to mention this her employer brushed her fears away.

"Young people are only young once!" Mrs. Curtis said. "I want Betty to enjoy everything while she can."

It was plain to be seen that young Mrs. Carlyle regarded Janet as merely another servant. Her position seemed slightly above that of Lucy, the maid, and slightly below that of Charles, the hairdresser. Betty told her mother she thought it quite unnecessary for Frederick to take the car out when Janet had errands down town. What were the busses for? It had a bad effect on servants, Betty said, to treat them as equals. She was impatient with her mother more than once on this score.

It was toward the end of that first week that Janet came into the house late in the afternoon. She was wearing her gray suit and the little green hat. She had been walking and the exercise had put color into her cheeks.

Janet stepped into the living room to leave some magazines. She laid them on a table with the others. All at once she heard a sound behind her and turned.

Rolf Carlyle was standing a few feet away. He smiled and said, "Well, Janet, aren't you glad to see me?"

Webster Pearce Works With All For Common Good

BY H. S. BABCOCK

During the brief time that the Democratic party has been in control of state affairs Webster H. Pearce, Republican superintendent of public instruction, who is up for re-election at the spring election to be held April 3, has demonstrated the fact that he will gladly work with both political parties for the good of the state. Both Democratic and Republican legislators have commented favorably upon the fine spirit and ability he has shown in helping them solve some of the legislative problems dealing with education. He has further demonstrated the fact that he is able to command the respect and cooperation of all who are interested in the schools. Members of the education committee of both houses have consulted with him from time to time in regard to measures now under consideration, and have expressed their entire satisfaction in complimentary terms.

He has found the legislature to be composed of that type of citizen who will consider the best interests of the schools as of first importance, and Mr. Pearse has confidence in their sense of fairness in dealing with schools. It goes without saying that the finest relation exists between Mr. Pearce and the present legislature.

Mr. Pearce considers character raining and citizenship so important that he has put great emphasis on the subject. A special school bulletin on this subject has been in general use in the schools for several years and is a required part of the curriculum. The schools of the state are the citizenship factory where boys and girls are prepared for American citizenship, and no one in the state has higher ideals of citizenship that Webster Pearce, superintendent of public instruction.

Justices Clarke, McDonald Endorsed By Att'y Jackson

Endorsement of Justices George M. Clarke and John S. McDonald of the state supreme court, both candidates for reelection on the Republican ticket at the coming election, was made yesterday in a statement issued by Atty. Glenn W. Jackson of this city.

Justice Clark was appointed to the supreme bench in 1919, was elected in 1920 and reelected in 1925. Justice McDonald was also appointed to the bench, was elected in 1922 and re-elected in 1925.

Atty. Jackson's endorsement follows:

Justices Clarke and McDonald were selected as members of our supreme court irrespective of any party considerations. They are both men of exceptional ability and wide experience. Tradition has wisely decreed that they should not go about the state campaigning for reelection. Inasmuch as they have been chosen without regard to their political affiliations, they are not obligated to any political party and this makes them independent of partisan politics.

Partisan politics has its proper place with respect to national issues but it should have no voice in selecting our judiciary. There is a limit to which partisanship and party affiliations should go. I therefore appeal to the electors of this county, irrespective of national party affiliations, to vote for these men solely on the basis of their known ability and integrity.

Ironwood — The attention of voters is again called to the fact that Thomas J. Landers is the "wet" candidate and John Kuivinen the "dry" candidate for election to the state constitutional convention which will decide whether Michigan is to favor repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Both delegates were selected by a commission composed of county officials. Party lines do not enter into this election and personal likes or dislikes should not be permitted to influence a voter's choice. Each candidate merely represents one side of the question.

New York, Mar. 30 (AP)—Stocks found the market narrow and dull today, though the trend was still slightly downward, the average net change being a small loss.

Speculative inertia was especially pronounced in the handful of favorites which had done most of the declining in recent sessions, and these shares steadied. Sales aggregated only 624,250 shares.

Carrier securities presumably reflected anticipated reorganizations. However, Wall Street inclined to the belief that there had been plenty of time to discount such eventualities and that actual news of financial readjustments would have its constructive angles.

American Telephone gave a better account of itself. Absence of offerings in this leader was accompanied by some short covering, particularly when the wholly-owned Pennsylvania subsidiary declared its regular quarterly dividend of $2. So far, the reductions in operating company payments have been made chiefly by units not fully owned by A. T. & T. The latter's shares rallied half a point net.

U. S. Steel, American Can, Allied Chemical, Du Pont and General Motors showed small changes, averaging a little higher on the day. National Distillers Products went into new high ground. Paramount Publix and Willys Overland ended their current stock market careers at quotations of 12½ cents; both will be stricken from the list tomorrow, the companies are in receivership and are not maintaining transfer offices which automatically removes them from the list.

Employment in the manufacturing industries improved a trifle in February and there was a corresponding gain in total wages paid, but the latter's rise was below the average rise over January for the last several years. Full effects of the banking holiday on industry will not be measurable until the March statistics are published. At Pittsburgh No. 1 heavy melting steel scrap was advanced 25 cents a ton, thus continuing the recent improvement of a basic raw material.

There was no change in local money markets which apparently will get by the April 1 demands without a flurry. The day's accession to our monetary gold stocks was small, receipts of $56,300 from China being reported by the New York Federal Reserve bank.

Kingfish Gives Real Low-Down On The Big Six

New York (AP)—Senator Huey Long, the Louisiana "Kingfish," named his "Big Six"—men he says "control America from baby food up."

But as he waved his arms, pointed his finger, banged a table and paced the floor, he decided that maybe only three men should be placed in the list, with honorable mention to the others.

This is the way he rattled off the names:

"J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller—both of 'em—Andrew W. Mellon and—oh, I'll give you back the other three.

"Those three I mentioned can control everything from baby food up."

He was still pacing the floor of his hotel room.

"But wait—put George F. Baker in there, just to give him a little honorable mention. Yes, put the Du Ponts in too. Might as well give them honorable mention."

Someone asked about Henry Ford.

"Henry Ford? Let's see. Where is he? I'd give him a little mention, but I wouldn't put him exactly with the six. I'd put him there in this respect—"

And then the grinning senator told a story about umpiring a baseball game.

"After the team from my home town had safely won the game with five runs ahead," he said with a chuckle, "I began favoring the other team just to get the game over. Finally, when I called a strike a ball, the pitcher turned to me and said:

"'I thought at first you were a crook, but I've decided now you're just a fool.'"

There was hardly a national problem the senator didn't discuss as he strode about the room.

He said he went to the Bible for his ideas on farm relief.

"You must balance production with consumption," he shouted. "Go back to the law of Moses. Whenever you have overproduction have a Sabbatical year. Go into every community and establish warehouses. That will take care of this year's unemployment. Then when you can carry your crops over a year, why, banish the crops.

"The land needs a rest anyway. A man could ditch and drain his land in an idle year. A farmer

BY VICTOR EUBANK
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Mar. 30 (AP)—The bond market continued to stumble over uncertainties today and only the United States government group was able to resist the downward drift of prices.

Trading verged on dullness in most issues and bids and offers were far apart in many instances with some sharp losses resulting from the turnover of a few bonds. Sales totaled $19,608,000 and the average for 60 domestic corporate loans dropped four-tenths of a point.

While sentiment toward the federal group was still cheerful, there apparently was a fair-sized supply of both high-grade and speculative mortgages waiting for buyers that insisted upon holding aloof. Recent offerings of higher grade bonds were attributed partly to liquidation by conservators of closed banks in various parts of the country.

The foreign section was again the victim of pronounced weakness in scattered divisions. Loans of Columbia suffered further losses of 2½ to 9 7-8 points, reflecting the declaration of a moratorium by the republic on foreign debt payments. German obligations recorded new 1933 lows. The Argentines were heavy and French 7½s sagged 2 points.

A few of the utilities and industrials steadied, but the majority had little support. A rather heavy tone was exhibited by loans of American Telephone, Chile Copper, Columbia Gas, Consolidated Gas, Goodrich, Goodyear, Kelly Springfield, Laclede Gas, National Steel, North American, Studebaker, United Drug and U. S. Rubber.

New York, Mar. 30 (AP)—Charles B. Bohn, president of Bohn Aluminum & Brass Corp., told stockholders at their annual meeting today that he estimated net profit for the first 1933 quarter at approximately $75,000. In the same period last year the company had a deficit of $73,000.

Sale of a National Metal Exchange membership at $1,000, up $50 from the previous price, was announced today.

Arrangements were made today for sale of a New York Curb Exchange seat at $24,500, off $10,500 from the previous transaction.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Mar. 30—Jolted by a sudden influx of eastern selling today at the last, grain values underwent quick setbacks, and finished with losses for wheat and corn.

Late pressure of wheat was attributed to unloading of some heavy speculative holdings. Announcement of proposed liquidation of $157,000,000 of federal commodity loans made to cooperative marketing associations was variously construed by traders, some asserting that the announcement was bearish, but others saying that most of the loans were against non-grain products, and that in the long run the new policy as to the loans was basically constructive.

Wheat closed nervous, ¼ to 7-8 under yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 5-8 off, oats unchanged to 1-8 to ¼ up, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents down.

Until right at the finish, a firm tone prevailed in the wheat market during the late transactions. This was chiefly due to the fact that steady buying of small lots had developed owing to belief expressed in various quarters that liquidation of commodity holdings by cooperative marketing agencies would not be an important factor as to grain.

Friends of higher prices for wheat put stress on reports that the senate agriculture committee had approved an amendment to the administration farm bill so as to guarantee to growers the cost of production on commodities included in the bill.

Corn and oats mainly followed wheat.

Provisions averaged lower with hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—May, 52 to 52 1-8, 53½ to 5-8; July, 52 3-4 to 7-8.

No Bright Spots In Utility Group

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Financial Editor)

New York, Mar. 30 (AP)—Curb stocks continued to sag under their own weight today, rather than from important external pressure.

In the same narrow professional dealings, leading issue, with few exceptions, recorded losses ranging from fractions to a point. The day's business amounted to 70,000 shares compared with 100,000 yesterday.

There were no bright spots in the utility group, although traders for the decline had no great success. Some of the closely held issues lost a point or two but leaders such as Electric Bond and Share, American Gas & Electric, and Niagara Hudson Power did not venture far from yesterday's closing levels.

Some inactivs specialties which have not been taking selling readily in recent sessions yielded further ground. Chesebrough Manufacturing dropped five points and Pennsylvania Water 3.

The market had its brighter side, however, in brisk bidding for several issues which were supposed in some way to be affected by reports of reviving business.

The stock of A. O. Smith & Co., which serves a number of industries now in the doldrums, jumped about five points to the accompaniment of gossip that the company might book a substantial line of business for beer containers. National Sugar also moved up a couple of points in sympathy with a fair rise in the raw sugar futures market.

Cuyler Injury May Rob Cubs of League Flag

PITTSBURGH IS TEAM TO BEAT

Cards Boast Biggest Squad; Giants May Fit in Later

BY BRIAN BELL
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

When Kiki Cuyler was carried from a Los Angeles ball park to a Hollywood hospital with a broken ankle, the pennant hopes of the Cubs may have ridden in the same ambulance.

The National league champions with all stars intact, had been looking with anxious eyes toward the shadow of a black Pirate flag along the championship race track and the injury to the jinx-ridden Cuyler will make the Pittsburgh threat seem twice as great.

Frank DeMaree, who will be shoved into the yawning spot in the Chicago outfield, is a good ball player and was a great one at times in the last world series but it is no reflection on the former Sacramento player to say he is no Cuyler. Kiki had been going great guns in spring practice and it will be little short of a baseball miracle if Demaree, a major league sophomore, can pick up where the post-graduate student left off.

Short on Defense

The Cubs still have Herman, the Great, to hit in a flock of runs but, alas, the right fielder almost certainly will kick in some for the other side before all the returns are compiled. The Cubs' long distance hitter will pack a great offensive threat but he will not materially assist in plugging the defensive hole left by the departure of the fleet Cuyler.

Pittsburgh, dated the National league favorite before the starting gong sounds, has escaped injuries in spring training and if its luck holds throughout the campaign seems almost certainly the club to defeat. However, in other years the Pirates have felt the plague of hurts where they did the most harm.

How About Phils?

Manager George Gibson will trot out a well balanced team in perfect physical condition to start the ball rolling. The pitching may prove uncertain but at least the other managers face the same problem. The addition of Freddie Lindstrom has given Pittsburgh a great run making outfield, a combination blessed too, with ability to twart the others' efforts.

The Phillies are not often mentioned in connection with championships, and then only in whispers, but Burt Shotton leads a team with a powerful attack and with the luck every winning team needs, he might ride a very dark horse into the middle of the pennant picture.

Certainly the Phillies can hit and they seem to have been definitely bettered by between season trades.

The St. Louis Cardinals cannot be counted out, if for no other reason than because they have more players available, at home and abroad, ashore and afloat, than any other two major league clubs.

"Question Marks"

The old "Sarge," Gabby Street, is in command of a pitching staff perhaps in a class by itself in the two big circuits. However, his infield is cluttered up with a series of question marks. Roger Hornsby may or may not be able to carry on, in the infield and at bat, and if the Rajah should prove only a shell of his former self, the Cards do not seem to have an immediate replacement.

Shortstop, too, is something of a puzzle and while Frank Frisch can play third base, he does not like the position. But good pitching is a big help and the sergeant can say "You pitch" to some eight big fellows and not go wrong.

Brooklyn will have a good offensive team in spite of some impotent hitting in the spring games. The addition of the veteran Joe Judge to play first base should prove a distinct advantage. Joseph has spent his baseball life in the American league but he can still field with men many years his junior and is always a dangerous man at bat in a "clinch." Hack Wilson should be a better player this year than he was last season and the Dodgers seem to have picked up a recruit able to start and stick, Walter Beck from Memphis.

May Avoid Cellar

The Giants may fit in well with the current jig-saw puzzle craze and prove a great club when, and if, they are put together in proper sequence. In the spring New York's pitching has seemed decidedly doubtful and while the starting lineup will be adequate, the reserve strength is none too strong for Manager Bill Terry's peace of mind.

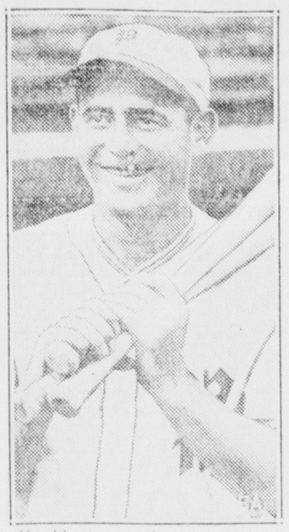
Travis Jackson took care of his legs during the training season and played little but he will be back in the game when the serious cannonading starts. His understudy, Jack Ryan, is as good a fielder as any one would want, but he has not been tested at bat. If injuries should attack the Giants in bulk, they might drop out of the league standing before rescue forces should be recruited.

Parrin ill luck the Giant should be able to keep out of the cellar and if this proves to be the case, it is bad news for the Boston Braves and Cincinnati Reds. Boston has a mixture of old and young players, but apparently lacks the vital spark to enable the club to compete on even terms with at least four or five of the others and fight its way into the first division.

Cincinnati, under new management, piloted this year by the peppery and shrewd Donie Bush, has definitely improved, but so have most of the other fellows. Sunny Jim Bottomley has brought his big bat to Redland field where base hits can be used at all times. Time was when the best batsman on the Reds was Red Lucas, also the best pitcher. The redhead will welcome some assistance.

Donie Bush will fight hard to get the Reds out of the cellar and the effort may be as interesting as that of some of the more favored clubs to achieve and hold first place.

NOT ENOUGH



Unable to reach an agreemen on terms, Don Hurst, first base man of the Philadelphia Nation als, is reported to have left the team at Winter Haven, Fla., and started for his California home by automobile.

BOOTH ENTERS INTO BASEBALL

Mighty Atom Dickering For Franchise at New Haven

New Haven, Conn., March 30 (AP)—Once the "mighty atom" on the Yale football eleven, Albie Booth may soon be hearing himself called the "mighty magnate" of baseball if new life is instilled in the defunct Eastern league.

With Jack Cooley, automobileman, as his associate, the former Eli three-sport star is dickering for the New Haven franchise in the proposed six-club circuit.

Cooley said that Booth will serve in an executive capacity in the New Haven club organization—probably as vice president, and will not play with the team.

Booth, himself, looks forward toward the new experience with a relish. "This is my first association with professional sports outside of basketball," he said. "The latter I ran for a few months in a small way. I'm looking forward to this baseball business with great hopes.

"This club will be a sideline to business. I have no intention of making baseball a life career I like sports a lot and—well, you never can tell."

Besides New Haven, other cities mentioned for the proposed league are Hartford, Bridgeport, Pittsfield, Springfield and Providence. The groundwork for the circuit was laid at a meeting this week.

U.P. Baseball Loop Is Being Organized

Final plans for reorganization of the Upper Peninsula Baseball association, with prospects of a six-team circuit for the coming season, were discussed in Munising Monday and temporary officials of the league have called an organization meeting to be held in the city hall in Marquette on Sunday, April 9.

With the probability that the Marquette Browns will be reorganized and join the league, it is practically certain that the loop will have six clubs. Escanaba, Ishpeming, Munising, Negaunee and South Range already have announced their intention of coming into the circuit.

Election of permanent league officials and the drafting of a schedule and league by-laws are proposed for the organization meeting in Marquette, to which team managers or their representatives will be invited.

Although nothing definite has been decided, it is expected that several new policies will be adopted in the administration of the league this year. It has been proposed by some of the promoters that the league be made strictly amateur, but it has been suggested by others that each member team be permitted to import not more than three players from outside territory. These questions will, it is expected, be settled at the Marquette meeting.

It also has been proposed that an umpires' association be formed and this matter also will be acted upon April 9. It is believed that by organizing an umpire's association, all league games could be handled by neutral officials and eliminate accusations of favoritism which are common when a game is handled by an umpire who is a resident of a town represented by one of the competing teams.

Ball Clubs Divided On Sale of 3.2 Beer

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 30 (AP)—Major league club owners today appeared evenly divided on the question of selling beer in the ball parks this season, which starts April 12, five days after the new 3.2 beer becomes nationally legalized.

Five clubs in as many cities have put themselves on record as opposed to selling beer, in or under the stands, but five others, concentrated in the two biggest cities, New York and Chicago, favor dispensing the new beverage.

Chicago Thirsty

The remaining six clubs are non-commital, for various reasons. A majority are awaiting the final enactment of state beer control legislation before taking definite action.

Regardles of developments, the word is that no beer will be sold in the parks at Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, Washington and Pittsburgh. In explanation of the situation in the two Ohio cities, it is pointed out that the prospective new state law, controlling sales will provide for consuming the brew only at tables.

Even where it is planned to put the beverage on sale, club owners are agreed on a policy of not dispensing it among the customers in the stands, along with peanuts and popcorn. At Chicago, beer will be sold at bars in the White Sox and Cub parks. Club owners of all three metropolitan New York teams, the Yankees, Giants and Dodgers, favor the sale of beer at concession stands.

Ruppert Waiting

Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the world champion Yankees, controls one of the biggest breweries in New York, but has has made no move as yet to put beer on sale at the Yankee stadium for opening day. He, like the others, is awaiting legislation at Albany.

Managements of the two St. Louis clubs, although they use the same park, are divided on what they may do. The Browns probably will allow sales, beneath the stands only, but the Cardinals probably won't permit it.

At Boston and Philadelphia, each with two clubs, magnates have taken no action, pending the outcome of state beer control legislation.

Among the larger minor league cities, only Milwaukee so far reports plans to sell bottled beer in the stands. In pre-prohibition days there, bar-rooms operated under the stands, with beer on draft, but this will not be resumed, at least for the time being.

Famous Bowler Shot In Quarrel About A Woman

New York, Mar. 30 (AP)—Joe Falcaro, world's match game bowling champion, was shot and seriously wounded today in a quarrel over a woman. Police are holding Frank Mazzola on a charge of felonious assault.

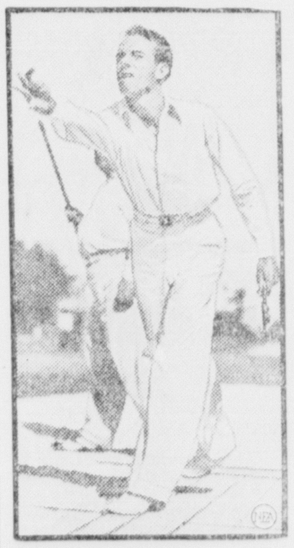
Falcaro, with a bullet wound in the groin, was taken to St. John's hospital where it was said he would recover.

The shooting occurred in Astoria in the center of a crowd of children hurrying from school during the lunch hour. None of the children, among whom was Mazzola's 10-year-old son, Michael, was hurt.

Mazzola, police said, told them he had fired in self-defense after an argument with Falcaro over the bowler's alleged attentions to Mrs. Mazzola.

Falcaro was to have opened defense of his bowling championship against Joe Miller of Buffalo in Philadelphia tomorrow night. The match has been postponed indefinitely.

STILL CHAMP



Horseshoe champion of North America for another year is Blair Nunamaker, of Cleveland, O., shown in action Nunamaker successfully defended his title against Alphonse Beillergnon, Canadian champion, at Coral Gables, Fla. He tossed .752 per cent ringers in the title tilt.

Team Lead Stays In ABC Competition

Columbus, O., March 30. (AP)—Only twenty-five teams participated in the American Bowling Congress tourney here tonight and the five-man event leaders remained undisturbed.

Scoring games of 932, 987, and 948, Stifel Fabrics of Wheeling W. Va., topped tonight's card with a 2,867 total.

Leading the day's bombardment in the minor events was Joe Zang of Columbus. Zang nosed out Art Hanford of Chicago by two pins to be king for the day, with 647. Al Miller and Homan Kaeppner, also of Columbus, topped tonight's doubles card with 1183.

GIANTS CHECK DETROIT, 2-1

Tiger Pitchers Hold New York to 1 Hits

Galveston, Tex., March 30 (AP)—Carl Hubbell and Herman Bell shaded Tom Bridges and Charles Fischer in a pitchers' battle today and the New York Giants checked the Detroit Tigers seven-game winning streak. The score was 2 to 1.

The Detroit moundsmen limited the Giants to four hits, but their rivals were just as niggardly, yielding a like number to Tiger batsmen. It was the first game the Tigers have lost in their three played against the Giants in the current series.

Detroit scored first in the fourth inning, but the New Yorkers tied the score again in the sixth. It was not until the eighth inning that Bill Terry's crew drove in the winning run.

Gehringer scored the Tiger run after a clean single, a move to second when Stone walked and came home on Rogell's single.

Just after Fischer took the mound for Detroit in the sixth Peel singled, took second when Leslie was hit by a pitch, went to third on a passed ball and scored when Leiber, batting for Ott, filed to Walker. Critz brought in the second Giant run in the eighth inning.

Immediately after the game the two teams entrained for Fort Worth where they play their fourth game Friday.

Michigan Diver Retains Record In AAU Swimming

New York, Mar. 30 (AP)—Walter and Wallace Spence, two members of a Brooklyn family, won the lions' share of titles awarded tonight at the opening of the annual three day competition for the National Amateur Athletic union championships in the 75 foot pool of the New York Athletic club.

Walter, national collegiate 100 yard free style champion, a student at Rutgers university, won the century by a yard from Al Schwartz, former national titleholder, of Chicago, in the comparatively slow time of 53.6 seconds with another brother, Leonard, squeezed off in his lane but furnishing bitter competition all the way.

Wallace won the 300-yard medley, consisting of the one third breast stroke, another third back stroke, and the final hundred yards of free style, after strenuous tussle with John Schmeiler, Big Ten champion from the University of Michigan, coming from behind in the last ten yards to take the Spence's second family title in 3:42.3, half a dozen seconds behind the record.

Richard K. Degener, University of Michigan, successfully defended his low board diving championship, scoring a total of 140.33 points in a splendid exhibition. He was little pressed by Al Greene, of Chicago, who trailed him with 121.56 points.

On the basis of the first night's competition the N. Y. Athletic club in the chase for the team trophy with 13 points, with Michigan university second with eight and Fort Wayne Y. M. C. A. third with five.

John Seymour, well known motor cycle racer who learned much of his racing technique on Escanaba tracks in past years, is holder of at least nine American records. He holds the one mile, five mile, 10 mile, 15 mile and 25 mile records for machines of 30.50 cubic inch motors on a one mile dirt track, the one mile and five mile records for like machines on a half mile track and one kilometer straightaway records for machines of 30.50 inch and 61 inch motors. Official record books list him as American champion in 1925.

Historians have never been able to trace the origin of chess, a popular national indoor pastime, but the game is certainly one of the oldest sports in existence. A chess set found in King Tut's tomb in 1930, proved that the game is at least 3200 years old as King Tut died in 1350 B. C. This discovery completly upset claims of some historians who asserted chess was invented by the Chinese Mandarin, Han Sing in 174 B. C. The Arabians are given much credit for improving the game. The words "check" and "mate" are from the Arabic language, meaning "The king is dead". One of the greatest chess players of all times was Paul Morphey of New Orleans who died in 1884. Although only 47 years old at death, he had established himself as a chess immortal.

Babe Ruth, the king of Swat, recently had a sizeable chunk sliced off his baseball pay check for 1933 but still the Bambino will receive more money this year than all the players on any one team in the Pacific league, a class AA loop supposed to rate next to the majors in importance. The clubs will average about $7,200 payroll per month, an average of $400 per player. During the six months playing season, each club, then, won't pay out more than $43,200 for salaries—which is $8800 less than the Bambino will collect from the Yanks this summer.

The U. P. bowling tournament now in session at the Arcade alleys here caused this writer to do a little probing in regard to the history of bowling. It was revealed that bowling in some form or another was a common pastime as far back as the Stone Age. The sport started when the large lads of the stone age rolled huge pebbles at a row of pointed stones which had a flat base. The Germans in the 12th and 13th century took up the sport and developed it considerably. Holland adopted the sport as the national pastime. It was an outdoor sport in those days. The Dutch introduced bowling to the USA about 300 years ago. The present Battery Park in New York City was the first "bowling green" in America.

The official bowling records made in sanctioned leagues or tournaments and revised up to May 15, 1931 reveal the following best marks for three game totals: Five-man event—3497 pins by State and Madison team of Rockford in 1929; doubles event—1504 pins by Mercurio - Koepp of Cleveland in 1936; singles—844, scored by O. Stein, Jr., of St. Louis in 1930; all events—2145, scored by Frank Kastner of St. Louis in 1930.

—o—

Although Stein's 844 score was ranked as the record in May, 1931, at least one other superior performance is included in the books. On March 5, 1924, Frank Caruana of Buffalo started off with a 300 score, followed with another perfect score of 300, then rolled 247 and finished with 278, a grand total of 1115 pins for four games. Caruana was bowling in a four-game match. His first three games netted him a total of 847 which is three pins better than Stein's record but as he was not bowling in a three-game match, the all time top honor was not accorded Caruana.

An even better performance was registered by George Rudolph of Waukegan on April 9, 1939. Rudolph established an unoffi-

RANGERS BUMP OFF REDWINGS

Series Continued at Olympia, Detroit, On Sunday

New York, Mar. 30 (AP)—The New York Rangers turned back Detroit's flashy Red Wings, 2 to 0, tonight in the first of their two-game semi-final series in the National Hockey League's Stanley cup playoffs. The series, which decides one of the finalists in the competition for the ancient emblem of the world's professional hockey supremacy, is on a total goal basis. The Ranger margin will be carried over into Sunday's clash at Detroit.

It was a rather spiritless affair for a playoff game. Through the entire contest Detroit stuck largely to a defensive game while the Rangers, after getting their margin, made few efforts to increase it. A capacity crowd of nearly 17,000 found little cause for cheering.

Ching Johnson, burley defense man, and the flashy young Cecil Dillon got the Ranger goals with Murray Murdoch, third of the Rangers who stood out in the game, drawing an assist.

For the Red Wings, only Goalie John Ross Roach, a nemesis to the Rangers all season, did any sparkling work. At least a half dozen times he prevented scores with brilliant net minding after the Detroit defense had been beaten.

The lineups and summary:

RANGERS		DETROIT
Aitkenhead	Goal	Roach
E. Seibert	RD	Evans
Johnson	LD	Young
Boucher	C	Voss
W. Cook	RW	Aurie
F. Cook	LW	Lewis

Detroit spares: Hay, Goldsworthy, Sorrell, Goodfellow, Carson, Emms, Moffatt, Gallagher, Buswell.

Summary:

First period—1, Rangers, Johnson, 17:45.

Penalties — Emms, E. Seibert, Somers, Evans.

Second period—2, Rangers, Dillon (Murdach) 13:48.

Penalties — Johnson, Gallnvher, Brennan, Buswell, Evans, E. Seibert.

NEW NATIONAL BANK POPULAR

Detroit Citizens Put Over 25 Million On Deposit

Detroit, Mar. 30 (AP)—In less than a week, Detroiters have deposited $25,310,356 in their new bank, the 100 per cent liquid National Bank of Detroit.

Bank officials, in making the list of accounts public today, expressed amazement at the rapid response of the city to new banking facilities, and evidenced no little pride in their own achievement—of providing a $25,000,000 bank within a few days.

With Detroit's two largest banks inoperative and in the hands of conservators, the new National bank came into being after hasty conferences in Washington. It was backed by $12,500,000 underwritten by General Motors corporation, and a similiar amount by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Built Overnight

Last Thursday a hastily-gathered force of employes from the two closed banks, the Guardian National Bank of Commerce and the First National Bank-Detroit, were ordered into the quarters of the new bank in the First National Bank-Detroit building.

"The bank opens tomorrow," said James McEvoy, General Motors official selected as temporary president. "Let's get busy."

Overnight, a new bank was built.

On the first day more than $10,000,000 was deposited. Not only did General Motors show its faith in the new bank by $1,000,000 deposited, but other large corporations did likewise. Chrysler corporation placed the largest deposit, $4,000,000, while the Ford Motor company added $1,000,000. Since then, daily additions of from 400 to 600 new commercial accounts have been entered, until the total grew today to 3,053 accounts.

Eventually, according to present plans, the bank hopes to assume the more liquid assets of the two inoperative institutions, and make an early payment of about 40 per cent of their deposits to depositors in the closed banks. When this will take place has not been decided.

BANK FOR LANSING

Lansing, Mar. 30 (AP)—Plans for the organization of a new national bank in this city to be partly financed by federal funds were announced tonight.

The bank will be called the National Bank of Lansing and will take over the liquid assets of the Capital National bank now under the supervision of Nathan P. Hull, federal conservator.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation will subscribe $300,000 in preferred stock in the new bank with the balance of a $600,000 capitalization dividend into common and preferred and fully subscribed locally. The city of Lansing will own $15,000 worth of stock in the new bank as the result of action taken by the city council.

COMMUNICATIONS

THE PROHIBITION QUESTION

Escanaba Daily Press.

Dear Editor—I would like to write a few words in regard to communications on the prohibition question, published in recent issues of the Press.

What is the difference in having prohibition or not? Can anyone prove conditions are better now than before prohibition? What will be the results of the speakeasies or blindpigs? Is the home with this title a proper place to bring up children?

If you and I want to be truthful, we know that conditions today have almost reached the limit.

You fellows who were young during the open saloon days, how popular were you if you had had a drink? Today, young men feel they cannot be popular without having a drink. No, all the young men are not like this; we do have a few left with respect for themselves and others, but we can easily say the majority don't care.

And as for high school students drinking, there is no reasonable person that can say they don't carry hip flasks. I remember not very long ago several youths were caught with a bottle from a local high school and expelled from school.

True, we had drunkenness in pre-prohibition days, but there were not as many women drinkers then as now. I'll admit there were women who drank then but a woman who did was considered an outcast. Now, especially at some of the cheap dance halls one can really be shocked to see how many of young girls in a drunken condition. Should this be allowed? If prohibition is what some people say it is, why are conditions like this? Prohibition may be a good value if proper laws were made and enforced.

Why not have beer legalized? Hasn't it been made and sold just the same? If beer were free for all to have as they wished it, perhaps it would eliminate booze.

If the blind pigs are still to be allowed, what result will this having on the future generation?

Then saloons are better. We know they had their faults, but are not nor were ever worse than the blind pigs of today. A person would know where to find another then, but now it's hard to tell where one may be.

From now on if we expect better conditions we need consider others as well as ourselves and look things right in the face, not one-sided.

A READER.

State to Vote On Question of Repeal Monday

For the first time in the history of the state, Michigan voters will cast ballots on April 3 which will determine whether the state ratifies the Twenty-First amendment to the federal constitution and repeals the Eighteenth amendment.

On all previous questions of ratification of federal constitutional amendments, action has been taken by the state legislature.

When the Twenty-First proposed amendment was submitted to the states by Congress, it was specified that ratification or rejection be by conventions elected for that purpose alone.

Heidkamp Act

Several weeks ago a bill providing for the election of delegates on April 3, was introduced in the legislature by Senator Adolph Heidkamp of Lake Linden. This bill was passed. The Heidkamp act provides that one delegate to the ratification convention be elected from each district which elects a member of the House of Representatives. To make sure that voters have an opportunity of clearly expressing their views, the Heidkamp act required county officials to nominate two delegates for each district.

One of the delegates is pledged to vote for ratification of the new amendment. The other delegate is pledged to vote against ratification.

Delta Candidates

Under this system, voters have an opportunity of expressing their views as the convention to be held in Lansing April 10, will vote in accordance with the results of the election. Whether Michigan will ratify or reject the proposed amendment, can be determined as soon as the ballots are counted April 3.

Under the law, the ratification ballot will be separate from the ballots containing the names of candidates for state and local offices.

Cornelius Gallagher is the Wet candidate, while C. N. Wood is the Dry in the contest for delegate from the Delta district.

Farley Asks for Cooperation Of Postal Patrons

Greetings from Postmaster General James A. Farley to the patrons and employees of the postal service in Escanaba were received here yesterday in a letter addressed to Postmaster George G. Geniesse.

The postmaster general's letter read as follows:

"I extend the kindliest greetings to the officers, employees, and patrons of the postal service. In the present period of rehabilitation and recovery postal facilities must be maintained at a high rate of efficiency, but it is essential to practice every possible economy of administration. For this policy I invite the cordial support not only of the personnel of the service, but of postal patrons everywhere. Suggestions from employees and from the public, whether for improvements in service or for savings in expenditures, will at all times be given the most careful consideration."

IT TOOK TWO EGGS TO MAKE THIS ONE

By NEA Service

Memphis, Tenn.—It was a funny kind of a shell game that the prize Rhode Island Red hen of Mrs. Edgar F. Culp played on her.

The hen laid a huge egg, quite unlike any Mrs. Culp ever saw. On breaking the shell, nothing came out of it except the white of the egg.

Looking further, Mrs. Culp found another shell inside the first. She cracked this shell and found that it contained the yolk of the egg and nothing else.

The outer egg was about twice the size of an ordinary one, while the inner one was of average size.
